

VON GRIFF SUBDUED BY AN OLD SOLDIER

GETTYSBURG BRAVERY WAS MORE THAN MONEY.

How the Rich Man's Daughter Was Won When the Veteran Marched
Down the Street on Memorial Day,
by the Son of the Humble Village
Tinsmith.

All who knew Von Griff, the baker, knew him to be a proud man. Perhaps his pride was so well known because he did not hide it. But concealment was something too subtle for the warm hearted, impetuous German. His likes and dislikes were as easy to read as the big blue sign above his bakery door. Some there were among his customers whom he treated with open scorn. Yet they were not driven away, for Von Griff's bread was good.

There were several things of which Von Griff was proud, but his ever increasing bank account was not one of them.

Von Griff had a daughter, Rosie, was her name. He loved Rosie, and was proud of her. Von Griff also had a sword. It is not too much to say that he loved his sword, and it is but stating the bare fact to say that he was intensely proud of it.

A picture of Von Griff's heart would have revealed two shrines. In one shrine would have been seen his daughter—in the other his sword.

None questioned him his pride in Rosie. There were those, however, who ridiculed his pride in his sword and scoffed at his love for it. The ridiculing and the scoffing took place apart from the presence of Von Griff.

The sword was a huge, wicked looking blade of steel in a brass bound, battered scabbard. It hung by day over the little desk at the end of the bakery counter. At night it was suspended on the wall of Von Griff's chamber and was the first object on which his eyes rested when he woke, as it was the last on which they closed when he lay down to sleep.

All who were friends of his knew the story of that sword, and had admired it. His particular friends had even been allowed to draw the huge blade. This assured them that they stood high in Von Griff's esteem. To these he told stories of his war spent youth, pointed to the white line which started just above his right temple and was lost in the grizzled hair on top of his head, and, with flashing eye and nostrils once more a-quiver, spoke of the field of Sedan, where a French sabre had left that mark.

And so it was that many knew the story of that sword. To strangers was pointed out the baker who, as a German soldier, had once met face to face a giant of the terrible Old Guard of Napoleon in deadly conflict and left him with his skull cleft in twain by a single stroke of that big sword. Doubters were shown the very sword and silenced.

"YOU-YOU-YOU WANT TO MARRY MINE ROSIE!"

When Von Griff left the fatherland, his sword was the greater part of his property.

True, there was a tin trunk, and his good wife carried a few precious thalers which the passage money had not absorbed. He had not so much pride in the sword then. But as he prospered in the new land his pride grew, and he fixed it on the cherished blade, and when Rosie grew into a bright eyed, pink cheeked, fluffy haired beauty, she, too, shared in his pride. The hardworking mother had died just as the industry of herself and her husband began to bring generous reward.

Von Griff's pride, as has been hinted, was not a purse born pride. Even after he owned two large tenements and two cottages he still lived over his store and wore the same gray clothes.

Simple were the habits of Von Griff. He loved to sit, on summer evenings, under the bakery awning, pipe in hand, and gossip with his neighbors. Sometimes he read—always of wars.

It happened that he was thus occupied one evening when Rosie, with sparkling eyes and flushed cheeks, came into the sitting room. He held a magazine in one hand and his long pipe in the other.

"Oh, Rosie, mine dear, come here. I was reading something here, and I like you to finish it for me. Eh? That's a good girl."

"All right, papa, after I've—"

"Now, Rosie, now. Let dot wait und read me."

So Rosie, who was a good girl, proceeded to read. It was a story of Gettysburg's fierce fighting. The tale was little to Rosie's liking, but she did not hesitate. As she read on and the story pictured that fearful three days' struggle on the hill tops, the warlike baker's blood was stirred. As the story detailed the slaughter in the bloody angle and in the wheatfield, and how Little Round Top was lost and captured again, his eyes flashed with excitement. But it was when the writer told of how, for hour after hour, the troops of both armies lay, face to the ground, while above them flew the iron storm from the opposing batteries, that he was stirred most.

Von Griff told himself that not even on the historic field of Austerlitz was there such an awful cannonading. The description of the roar that seemed to shake the earth and sky as well reached him with full force. Had he not known the same terror himself? Heartily he agreed with the writer that the men who stood their ground there and waited during that duel of iron throated monsters until their turn came were indeed brave men and heroes.

"Rosie, dot vos grand, grand, grand!" he exclaimed when she had finished.

"Yes, I know, papa. But now I want you to listen to me. There's some one in the parlor who's coming in to say something to you, and I want you to be real nice to him."

Then she gave her father a kiss and a hug and tripped into the next room.

"Vot is dot you say, Rosie?"

Von Griff could not change the current of his thought, so quickly, and Rosie's words were all but lost upon him.

On his mind was still pictured the field of Gettysburg when a young man came in from the parlor.

"Ah, dot vos grand, grand! Heroes dey were, heroes. Yes, und—vot, vell?"

He had realized that some one was present.

"Ah, Meister Fairfield. Vell, vot is id now? Want to dake Rosie to some more dances, eh? My chrichious, but you boys will turn mine hair vite. Always wanting mine Rosie to go somevhere."

"Mr. von Griff," said Jack Fairfield. "I want to ask you something more serious than that this time."

"Vell, vell, outd with it," said the unsuspecting baker.

"I want—sir, I—I—"

Jack hesitated in spite of himself while he groped for the carefully prepared speech. But it was gone. He could not remember a word of it, and there he was standing stammering like a schoolboy with a half learned lesson.

"Vell, vell," said Von Griff impatiently.

The word seemed to be the result of an internal explosion. The baker had leaned forward in his chair in an effort to rise quickly to his feet, but had failed. All this had added to the lurid color of his face and deducted from his lung power. He made another effort to rise and succeeded.

"Vat?" he exploded again. "You—you want to—to marry mine Rosie?"

"Yes, sir," said Jack, half wondering whether the baker was really going to explode or only choke himself. "She is willing, for I have asked her, and I came to get your consent."

"You—you did, eh? Hah! My consent! Vell, sir, you vill nefer get it—nefer. Vat, mine Rosie marry a jackanapes of a nobody! Mine Rosie!"

"But I'm somebody to Rosie," put in Jack, thinking a little argument might be a relief.

"To Rosie, eh? Hah! But vat are you? Who are you? Answer me dot. Who is your father?"

"You know my father, Mr. von Griff."

"Yes, I know him. He is another nobody—a nobody, I tell you. Leaf mine house und nefer come here somevhere. Go away quick!"

There seemed to be nothing for Jack to do but go. It was very plain that the baker was in no mood for argument, and, much as Jack wished to retort to the statement that he and his father were nobodies, he turned on his heel without a word and left the house.

Jack did not understand the cause of Von Griff's wrath. He looked upon it merely as the temporary ruffling of an old man's temper that a day would smooth out. But Rosie knew better. She fully comprehended the contempt in which her father held those whom he thought were of common clay and far outside the nobility of arms which he had constructed for himself. She knew that his pet project was to take her back to Germany and buy for her an army husband—a creature with waxed mustache, high boots, a clanking sword and epaulets. She realized that her father's money would attract many such and that the giving of her hand in marriage would be only a question of how high a rank the fortune of the rich baker would bring. Rosie did not propose to be made a factor in any such bargain. How to escape it though, she did not know.

Von Griff, after a troubled night, began the day in a passion which was felt by every one within reach of his voice. At last he could contain himself no longer. Putting his broad brimmed brown hat solidly on his head, he started out to find Jack's father.

Now John Fairfield was as quiet and inoffensive as the baker was irascible and pugnacious. As a humble tinsmith, he worked steadily in his little shop day after day, attracting no attention. He was retiring and slow spoken. He seemed to fill a chink in the social scheme—a chink in an out of the way corner. Yet he was not a morose man. He was something of a philosopher in his quiet way, and a cheerful sort of philosophy was his too.

When Von Griff stormed into the tin shop, Fairfield was giving a teakettle a new lease of life by the judicious application of solder.

"Meister Fairfield, you haf a son, haf you not?" abruptly began the baker.

"I have," said the tinsmith, suspending operations on the teakettle.

"Und I have a daughter," went on Von Griff. "Your son, Meister Fairfield, has asked me for mine Rosie to marry."

"Ah," said the tinsmith, with a smile. "Hah, yah!" exploded the baker. "For mine Rosie to marry. Meister Fairfield, your son is young. He knows nothings yet. He knows not dot he is a nobody. See vat he does! He wants to marry the daughter of a Von Griff. Hah!"

The tinsmith smiled placidly at this tirade and put his iron in the blazing charcoal.

"A Von Griff," continued the baker, "chrowing out his chest and striking it with his clenched fist."

"Meister Fairfield, I vos a soldier, und I fights me at Sedan und Metz. Who vos you?"

The tinsmith smiled and took up the teakettle. Turning his back on the baker, he held the kettle to the light and began a search for unwelcome holes. But the baker had not finished.

"Who vos you?" he repeated.

As the tinsmith did not answer, Von Griff replied to his own question.

"You—you vos—a drinker—a tam drinker. Und tink you mine Rosie efer marry the son of a drinker? No, py chrichious, nefer! Meister Fairfield, your son petter keep away from mine house. I haf spoken, und I am a man of my vort."

Having thus delivered himself Von Griff turned sharply on his heel.

"Well, I guess Jack can take care of himself," remarked the tinsmith quietly.

The baker turned fiercely at the words, glared ferociously at the unruffled object of his anger, and then left the shop.

With many a chuckle Jack's father told him of the baker's visit, and added, "The next time you go courting Rosie Von Griff, you'd better wear a suit of chain armor, my boy."

MEMORIAL DAY, 1895

But Rosie would not let Jack run any such risks. She made him promise not to go near her father until she should give him permission to do so, and to repay him she planned many ingenious meetings. So the courtship went merrily on in spite of Von Griff and his big sword.

May had almost gone and spring was fairly installed in winter's place when one day Rosie met Jack with reddened eyes and serious face.

"Why, Rosie, what's the matter? You've been crying."

"I know I have, and I'm going to make you cry, too," she said dolefully.

"Oh, now don't! Just think, wouldn't I look nice weeping?"

"Now, Jack Fairfield, you just stop making fun of me and listen. Something dreadful's going to happen."

"Well, what is it?"

"My papa is going—going—oh, Jack—he's going to take me to Germany and marry me off to an old army officer. There—how do you like that?"

"But he's not going to do anything of the kind."

"Yes, he is. We're to start in June."

"Then we'll be married tomorrow. I'd like to see him take you off to Germany then."

"Oh, Jack, I wouldn't dare do that. He would—oh, he would kill you! I shudder."

As each veteran swung his right hand up, palm outward, to his hat brim Von Griff, heart swelling and eyes dimmed, drew himself up to the most stately martial attitude which his corpulence would allow and returned the salute.

As the veterans again formed into fours and began to march on, Von Griff's gaze fell on a man in veteran's uniform marching modestly in one of the rear ranks. It was John Fairfield.

On the day following the parade the tinsmith was hard at work in his shop when he walked Von Griff.

"Meister Fairfield," began the baker, with his usual abruptness, "I am von idiot, und you are von hero. I came here to ask of you your pardons."

"Oh, that's all right," said Fairfield, with a laugh at the baker's earnestness and humility.

"Vill you shake mine handt?"

"Why, of course."

With due formality and solemnity the handshaking was accomplished. But the baker had not finished.

"Meister Fairfield," he continued, "yesterday I learn dot you vos a hero. Today I find dot you are also von gentlemen."

"Well, I never considered myself a hero, Mr. von Griff, but I thank you for the latter expression of your esteem," replied Fairfield, still with an amused expression on his face.

"But you are von hero," persisted the baker warmly. "Dey tell me how you fought at Gettysburg. Dot iss enough. Meister Fairfield, I vos a soldier mine-self, und I fight at Sedan, but I never fought in von grandt, von terrible struggle like you haf, und vonce more, Meister Fairfield, I salute you as von hero. As for your son, I want you to say to him dot he iss as welcome in mine house as in his own, und dot when he iss ready vonce more to ask me somedings vich he vonce alretty does I vill be pleased to hear him."

"But you are von hero," persisted the baker warmly. "Dey tell me how you fought at Gettysburg. Dot iss enough. Meister Fairfield, I vos a soldier mine-self, und I fight at Sedan, but I never fought in von grandt, von terrible struggle like you haf, und vonce more, Meister Fairfield, I salute you as von hero. As for your son, I want you to say to him dot he iss as welcome in mine house as in his own, und dot when he iss ready vonce more to ask me somedings vich he vonce alretty does I vill be pleased to hear him."

"But you are von hero," persisted the baker warmly. "Dey tell me how you fought at Gettysburg. Dot iss enough. Meister Fairfield, I vos a soldier mine-self, und I fight at Sedan, but I never fought in von grandt, von terrible struggle like you haf, und vonce more, Meister Fairfield, I salute you as von hero. As for your son, I want you to say to him dot he iss as welcome in mine house as in his own, und dot when he iss ready vonce more to ask me somedings vich he vonce alretty does I vill be pleased to hear him."

"But you are von hero," persisted the baker warmly. "Dey tell me how you fought at Gettysburg. Dot iss enough. Meister Fairfield, I vos a soldier mine-self, und I fight at Sedan, but I never fought in von grandt, von terrible struggle like you haf, und vonce more, Meister Fairfield, I salute you as von hero. As for your son, I want you to say to him dot he iss as welcome in mine house as in his own, und dot when he iss ready vonce more to ask me somedings vich he vonce alretty does I vill be pleased to hear him."

"But you are von hero," persisted the baker warmly. "Dey tell me how you fought at Gettysburg. Dot iss enough. Meister Fairfield, I vos a soldier mine-self, und I fight at Sedan, but I never fought in von grandt, von terrible struggle like you haf, und vonce more, Meister Fairfield, I salute you as von hero. As for your son, I want you to say to him dot he iss as welcome in mine house as in his own, und dot when he iss ready vonce more to ask me somedings vich he vonce alretty does I vill be pleased to hear him."

"But you are von hero," persisted the baker warmly. "Dey tell me how you fought at Gettysburg. Dot iss enough. Meister Fairfield, I vos a soldier mine-self, und I fight at Sedan, but I never fought in von grandt, von terrible struggle like you haf, und vonce more, Meister Fairfield, I salute you as von hero. As for your son, I want you to say to him dot he iss as welcome in mine house as in his own, und dot when he iss ready vonce more to ask me somedings vich he vonce alretty does I vill be pleased to hear him."

"But you are von hero," persisted the baker warmly. "Dey tell me how you fought at Gettysburg. Dot iss enough. Meister Fairfield, I vos a soldier mine-self, und I fight at Sedan, but I never fought in von grandt, von terrible struggle like you haf, und vonce more, Meister Fairfield, I salute you as von hero. As for your son, I want you to say to him dot he iss as welcome in mine house as in his own, und dot when he iss ready vonce more to ask me somedings vich he vonce alretty does I vill be pleased to hear him."

"But you are von hero," persisted the baker warmly. "Dey tell me how you fought at Gettysburg. Dot iss enough. Meister Fairfield, I vos a soldier mine-self, und I fight at Sedan, but I never fought in von grandt, von terrible struggle like you haf, und vonce more, Meister Fairfield, I salute you as von hero. As for your son, I want you to say to him dot he iss as welcome in mine house as in his own, und dot when he iss ready vonce more to ask me somedings vich he vonce alretty does I vill be pleased to hear him."

"But you are von hero," persisted the baker warmly. "Dey tell me how you fought at Gettysburg. Dot iss enough. Meister Fairfield, I vos a soldier mine-self, und I fight at Sedan, but I never fought in von grandt, von terrible struggle like you haf, und vonce more, Meister Fairfield, I salute you as von hero. As for your son, I want you to say to him dot he iss as welcome in mine house as in his own, und dot when he iss ready vonce more to ask me somedings vich he vonce alretty does I vill be pleased to hear him."

"But you are von hero," persisted the baker warmly. "Dey tell me how you fought at Gettysburg. Dot iss enough. Meister Fairfield, I vos a soldier mine-self, und I fight at Sedan, but I never fought in von grandt, von terrible struggle like you haf, und vonce more, Meister Fairfield, I salute you as von hero. As for your son, I want you to say to him dot he iss as welcome in mine house as in his own, und dot when he iss ready vonce more to ask me somedings vich he vonce alretty does I vill be pleased to hear him."

"But you are von hero," persisted the baker warmly. "Dey tell me how you fought at Gettysburg. Dot iss enough. Meister Fairfield, I vos a soldier mine-self, und I fight at Sedan, but I never fought in von grandt, von terrible struggle like you haf, und vonce more, Meister Fairfield, I salute you as von hero. As for your son, I want you to say to him dot he iss as welcome in mine house as in his own, und dot when he iss ready vonce more to ask me somedings vich he vonce alretty does I vill be pleased to hear him."

"But you are von hero," persisted the baker warmly. "Dey tell me how you fought at Gettysburg. Dot iss enough. Meister Fairfield, I vos a soldier mine-self, und I fight at Sedan, but I never fought in von grandt, von terrible struggle like you haf, und vonce more, Meister Fairfield, I salute you as von hero. As for your son, I want you to say to him dot he iss as welcome in mine house as in his own, und dot when he iss ready vonce more to ask me somedings vich he vonce alretty does I vill be pleased to hear him."

"But you are von hero," persisted the baker warmly. "Dey tell me how you fought at Gettysburg. Dot iss enough. Meister Fairfield, I vos a soldier mine-self, und I fight at Sedan, but I never fought in von grandt, von terrible struggle like you haf, und vonce more, Meister Fairfield, I salute you as von hero. As for your son, I want you to say to him dot he iss as welcome in mine house as in his own, und dot when he iss ready vonce more to ask me somedings vich he vonce alretty does I vill be pleased to hear him."

"But you are von hero," persisted the baker warmly. "Dey tell me how you fought at Gettysburg. Dot iss enough. Meister Fairfield, I vos a soldier mine-self, und I fight at Sedan, but I never fought in von grandt, von terrible struggle like you haf, und vonce more, Meister Fairfield, I salute you as von hero. As for your son, I want you to say to him dot he iss as welcome in mine house as in his own, und dot when he iss ready vonce more to ask me somedings vich he vonce alretty does I vill be pleased to hear him."

"But you are von hero," persisted the baker warmly. "Dey tell me how you fought at Gettysburg. Dot iss enough. Meister Fairfield, I vos a soldier mine-self, und I fight at Sedan, but I never fought in von grandt, von terrible struggle like you haf, und vonce more, Meister Fairfield, I salute you as von hero. As for your son, I want you to say to him dot he iss as welcome in mine house as in his own, und dot when he iss ready vonce more to ask me somedings vich he vonce alretty does I vill be pleased to hear him."

"But you are von hero," persisted the baker warmly. "Dey tell me how you fought at Gettysburg. Dot iss enough. Meister Fairfield, I vos a soldier mine-self, und I fight at Sedan, but I never fought in von grandt, von terrible struggle like you haf, und vonce more, Meister Fairfield, I salute you as von hero. As for your son, I want you to say to him dot he iss as welcome in mine house as in his own, und dot when he iss ready vonce more to ask me somedings vich he vonce alretty does I vill be pleased to hear him."

"But you are von hero," persisted the baker warmly. "Dey tell me how you fought at Gettysburg. Dot iss enough. Meister Fairfield, I vos a soldier mine-self, und I fight at Sedan, but I never fought in von grandt, von terrible struggle like you haf, und vonce more, Meister Fairfield, I salute you as von hero. As for your son, I want you to say to him dot he iss as welcome in mine house as in his own, und dot when he iss ready vonce more to ask me somedings vich he vonce alretty does I vill be pleased to hear him."

"But you are von hero," persisted the baker warmly. "Dey tell me how you fought at Gettysburg. Dot iss enough. Meister Fairfield, I vos a soldier mine-self, und I fight at Sedan, but I never fought in von grandt, von terrible struggle like you haf, und vonce more, Meister Fairfield, I salute you as von hero. As for your son, I want you to say to him dot he iss as welcome in mine house as in his own, und dot when he iss ready vonce more to ask me somedings vich he vonce alretty does I vill be pleased to hear him."

"But you are von hero," persisted the baker warmly. "Dey tell me how you fought at Gettysburg. Dot iss enough. Meister Fairfield, I vos a soldier mine-self, und I fight at Sedan, but I never fought in von grandt, von terrible struggle like you haf, und vonce more, Meister Fairfield, I salute you as von hero. As for your son, I want you to say to him dot he iss as welcome in mine house as in his own, und dot when he iss ready vonce more to ask me somedings vich he vonce alretty does I vill be pleased to hear him."

"But you are von hero," persisted the baker warmly. "Dey tell me how you fought at Gettysburg. Dot iss enough. Meister Fairfield, I vos a soldier mine-self, und I fight at Sedan, but I never fought in von grandt, von terrible struggle like you haf, und vonce more, Meister Fairfield, I salute you as von hero. As for your son, I want you to say to him dot he iss as welcome in mine house as in his own, und dot when he iss ready vonce more to ask me somedings vich he vonce alretty does I vill be pleased to hear him."

"But you are von hero," persisted the baker warmly. "Dey tell me how you fought at Gettysburg. Dot iss enough. Meister Fairfield, I vos a soldier mine-self, und I fight at Sedan, but I never fought in von grandt, von terrible struggle like you haf, und vonce more, Meister Fairfield, I salute you as von hero. As for your son, I want you to say to him dot he iss as welcome in mine house as in his own, und dot when he iss ready vonce more to ask me somedings vich he vonce alretty does I vill be pleased to hear him."

"But you are von hero," persisted the baker warmly. "Dey tell me how you fought at Gettysburg. Dot iss enough. Meister Fairfield, I vos a soldier mine-self, und I fight at Sedan, but I never fought in von grandt, von terrible struggle like you haf, und vonce more, Meister Fairfield, I salute you as von hero. As for your son, I want you to say to him dot he iss as welcome in mine house as in his own, und dot when he iss ready vonce more to ask me somedings vich he vonce alretty does I vill be pleased to hear him."

"But you are von hero," persisted the baker warmly. "Dey tell me how you fought at Gettysburg. Dot iss enough. Meister Fairfield, I vos a soldier mine-self, und I fight at Sedan, but I never fought in von grandt, von terrible struggle like you haf, und vonce more, Meister Fairfield, I salute you as von hero. As for your son, I want you to say to him dot he iss as welcome in mine house as in his own, und dot when he iss ready vonce more to ask me somedings vich he vonce alretty does I vill be pleased to hear him."

"But you are von hero," persisted the baker warmly. "Dey tell me how you fought at Gettysburg. Dot iss enough. Meister Fairfield, I vos a soldier mine-self, und I fight at Sedan, but I never fought in von grandt, von terrible struggle like you haf, und vonce more, Meister Fairfield, I salute you as von hero. As for your son, I want you to say to him dot he iss as welcome in mine house as in his own, und dot when he iss ready vonce more to ask me somedings vich he vonce alretty does I vill be pleased to hear him."

"But you are von hero," persisted the baker warmly. "Dey tell me how you fought at Gettysburg. Dot iss enough. Meister Fairfield, I vos a soldier mine-self, und I fight at Sedan, but I never fought in von grandt, von terrible struggle like you haf, und vonce more, Meister Fairfield, I salute you as von hero. As for your son, I want you to say to him dot he iss as welcome in mine house as in his own, und dot when he iss ready vonce more to ask me somedings vich he vonce alretty does I vill be pleased to hear him."

"But you are von hero," persisted the baker warmly. "Dey tell me how you fought at Gettysburg. Dot iss enough. Meister Fairfield, I vos a soldier mine-self, und I fight at Sedan, but I never fought in von grandt, von terrible struggle like you haf, und vonce more, Meister Fairfield, I salute you as von hero. As for your son, I want you to say to him dot he iss as welcome in mine house as in his own, und dot when he iss ready vonce more to ask me somedings vich he vonce alretty does I vill be pleased to hear him."

"But you are von hero," persisted the baker warmly. "Dey tell me how you fought at Gettysburg. Dot iss enough. Meister Fairfield, I vos a soldier mine-self, und I fight at Sedan, but I never fought in von grandt, von terrible struggle like you haf, und vonce more, Meister Fairfield, I salute you as von hero. As for your son, I want you to say to him dot he iss as welcome in mine house as in his own, und dot when he iss ready vonce more to ask me somedings vich he vonce alretty does I vill be pleased to hear him."

"But you are von hero," persisted the baker warmly. "Dey tell me how you fought at Gettysburg. Dot iss enough. Meister Fairfield, I vos a soldier mine-self, und I fight at Sedan, but I never fought in von grandt, von terrible struggle like you haf, und vonce more, Meister Fairfield, I salute you as von hero. As for your son, I want you to say to him dot he iss as welcome in mine house as in his own, und dot when he iss ready vonce more to ask me somedings vich he vonce alretty does I vill be pleased to hear him."

"But you are von hero," persisted the baker warmly. "Dey tell me how you fought at Gettysburg. Dot iss enough. Meister Fairfield, I vos a soldier mine-self, und I fight at Sedan, but I never fought in von grandt, von terrible struggle like you haf, und vonce more, Meister Fairfield, I salute you as von hero. As for your son, I want you to say to him dot he iss as welcome in mine house as in his own, und dot when he iss ready vonce more to ask me somedings vich he vonce alretty does I vill be pleased to hear him."

"But you are von hero," persisted the baker warmly. "Dey tell me how you fought at Gettysburg. Dot iss enough. Meister Fairfield, I vos a soldier mine-self, und I fight at Sedan, but I never fought in von grandt, von terrible struggle like you haf, und vonce more, Meister Fairfield, I salute you as von hero. As for your son, I want you to say to him dot he iss as welcome in mine house as in his own, und dot when he iss ready vonce more to ask me somedings vich he vonce alretty does I vill be pleased to hear him."

"But you are von hero," persisted the baker warmly. "Dey tell me how you fought at Gettysburg. Dot iss enough. Meister Fairfield, I vos a soldier mine-self, und I fight at Sedan, but I never fought in von grandt, von terrible struggle like you haf, und vonce more, Meister Fairfield, I salute you as von hero. As for your son, I want you to say to him dot he iss as welcome in mine house as in his own, und dot when he iss ready vonce more to ask me somedings vich he vonce alretty does I vill be pleased to hear him."

"But you are von hero," persisted the baker warmly. "Dey tell me how you fought at Gettysburg. Dot iss enough. Meister Fairfield, I vos a soldier mine-self, und I fight at Sedan, but I never fought in von grandt, von terrible struggle like you haf, und vonce more, Meister Fairfield, I salute you as von hero. As for your son, I want you to say to him dot he iss as welcome in mine house as in his own, und dot when he iss ready vonce more to ask me somedings vich he vonce alretty does I vill be pleased to hear him."

"But you are von hero," persisted the baker warmly. "Dey tell me how you fought at Gettysburg. Dot iss enough. Meister Fairfield, I vos a soldier mine-self, und I fight at Sedan, but I never fought in von grandt, von terrible struggle like you haf, und vonce more, Meister Fairfield, I salute you as von hero. As for your son, I want you to say to him dot he iss as welcome in mine house as in his own, und dot when he iss ready vonce more to ask me somedings vich he vonce alretty does I vill be pleased to hear him."

"But you are von hero," persisted the baker warmly. "Dey tell me how you fought at Gettysburg. Dot iss enough. Meister Fairfield, I vos a soldier mine-self, und I fight at Sedan, but I never fought in von grandt, von terrible struggle like you haf, und vonce more, Meister Fairfield, I salute you as von hero. As for your son, I want you to say to him dot he iss as welcome in mine house as in his own, und dot when he iss ready vonce more to ask me somedings vich he vonce alretty does I vill be pleased to hear him."

"But you are von hero," persisted the baker warmly. "Dey tell me how you fought at Gettysburg. Dot iss enough. Meister Fairfield, I vos a soldier mine-self, und I fight at Sedan, but I never fought in von grandt, von terrible struggle like you haf, und vonce more, Meister Fairfield, I salute you as von hero. As for your son, I want you to say

IMPRESSIVELY SAD ARE THE SERVICES

WASHINGTON DOES HONOR TO THE DEAD SECRETARY.

Funeral Services Held at the White House in the Presence of a Distinguished Assemblage—Remains Now on Their Way to Chicago.

Washington, May 30.—Before 8 o'clock yesterday the floral tributes to the distinguished dead began to arrive at the old Pomeroy house, overlooking Lafayette square, now an annex to the Arlington, in which the remains of the secretary of state lay. Only a few pieces, however, were received there. Most of them were sent to the White House, where the services were to be held. The casket lay in the drawing-room looking out upon the public square. Secretary and Mrs. Lamont, First Assistant Postmaster-General Jones, ex-Secretary of the Treasury Bristow and Mrs. Bristow and a few other intimate friends were with the sorrowing and stricken family. Mrs. Gresham, broken in spirit, exhausted by her long vigils and overcome with grief, was in such a nervous state that her daughter and son prevailed upon her not to undertake the trying ordeal of attending the services at the White House. At 8:30 o'clock, therefore, the doors were all closed and the stricken family was left alone with their dead. For almost thirty minutes they remained, taking their last leave. Then the bugle commands floated across the square as the horses of the yellow-tasseled cavalry, the lumbering caissons of the red artillery and the blue-coated foot soldiers, the military escort, were drawn up into lines along Pennsylvania avenue.

At 9 o'clock the doors to the room where the remains lay were opened, and the family retired to the rear apartments. Mrs. Gresham, in an agony of grief, was almost carried from the room by her stalwart son, Otto, and was followed by her daughter, Mrs. Andrews, leaning on the arm of Mr. Andrews, and Mrs. McGrain and Capt. Fuller. Mrs. Carlisle and other ladies of the cabinet arrived and offered such words of condolence as they could. Soon after the carriages, containing the members of the cabinet, began arriving. Secretary Carlisle, Acting Secretary Uhl, Attorney-General Olney and Secretary Herbert drove up in the order named. At 9:15 President Cleveland arrived in the White House carriage, accompanied by Col. Wilson. The President looked far from well and ascended the brown-stone steps with some difficulty. A moment later Secretary Morton and Postmaster-General Wilson arrived in their carriages, followed by Secretary Smith on foot. The casket had been closed and the President and members of his cabinet were given no opportunity to view the remains.

At exactly 9:30 o'clock five red-coated trumpeters marched up Lafayette place and stationed themselves outside the line of mounted police to give the signal when the cortege departed. Thirty seconds later the hearse, drawn by two coal black horses, drew up at the door. The president, followed by members of the cabinet in the order of their rank, acting as honorary pallbearers, descended the steps and stood with uncovered heads while the eight artillerymen carried the casket with slow and solemn tread between them. The casket was shrouded completely in the folds of the American flag. The stars and stripes could hardly be discerned for the flowers banked upon the casket. The artillerymen walked beside the hearse as it drew away, halting at the corner until the president and members of his official family in their carriages had taken their positions ahead. Acting Secretary Uhl was with Mr. Cleveland, Secretary Carlisle was alone and Secretaries Herbert and Lamont, Attorney-General Olney and Postmaster-General Wilson, Secretaries Smith and Morton, and First Assistant Postmaster-General Jones and ex-Secretary Bristow followed in the order named. Bishop Hurst, who arrived at this moment in his carriage, followed the hearse; Mr. and Mrs. Andrews, Otto Gresham and Captain Fuller followed. Mrs. Carlisle, Mrs. Lamont, Mrs. Bristow, the wife of the ex-Secretary, Mrs. McGrain, Mrs. Gresham's sister, and several other close friends remained behind with Mrs. Gresham.

The funeral procession, preceded by a squad of mounted police, moved slowly to the entrance of the white house grounds.

The casket, preceded by the president and cabinet, was borne by the artillerymen to the east room, where the service took place. Seats were reserved for the immediate kinsfolk and relatives of the dead man, for the president and Mrs. Cleveland and for the members of the cabinet and their wives. Within this solemn, black-robed circle, stood the standards for the catafalque, resting on a large black seal rug. By 10:45 the vast east room was nearly filled. The seating arrangements were perfect. The remainder of the diplomatic corps came along very rapidly. Sir Julian Pauncefote, the British ambassador, with his wife and daughter, preceded Ambassador Patenotre, who was accompanied by his wife. Then followed the Italian ambassador and Baron von Kettler, who is acting as the German ambassador, with full suites. All of the members of the diplomatic body were apparently in attendance, with the exception of Minister Weckerof the Netherlands, who is absent from Washington. The members of the supreme court came in singly and were seated on the left of the catafalque. Mr. Thurber, the president's private secretary, gave the assistance of his arm to Justice Field, who was very feeble. Just in the rear of the diplomatic body in the center of the chamber were seated general officers of the army and navy with their ladies.

The funeral ceremonies were brief and formal, consisting merely of reading the service of the Methodist Episcopal church by Bishop Hurst, the singing of a hymn and the uttering of a prayer. Not a syllable was said beyond that.

Pennsylvania avenue, from the war, navy and state department west of the White House, clear down to the Peace monument, under the shadow of the dome of the capitol, was densely crowded with people on foot and in carriages and through this multitude the cortege slowly moved from the White House to the railroad station. Ten thousand people assembled at the Baltimore & Ohio station, and as the train bearing the funeral party pulled out of the depot many a tear was shed. President Cleveland made the imperative stipulation that no newspaper men should go on the special funeral train. Outside of the President, cabinet officers and immediate relatives there was nobody in the party excepting John W. Doane of Chicago, and First Assistant Postmaster-General Jones.

Dr. O'Reilly attended the president and went to Chicago with the party. It was given out that this was done on Mrs. Gresham's account, but it is believed that the condition of the President himself has as much to do with the presence of the doctor as anything.

Chief Hazen, of the secret service, was at the depot and made a thorough inspection of the train. It is reasonably certain several of Chief Hazen's men accompanied the party to Chicago.

ARRANGEMENTS AT CHICAGO.

Funeral of the Late Secretary Gresham Will Be Quiet.

Chicago, May 30.—On arrival here the Gresham funeral train will be switched from the Baltimore and Ohio tracks to the Illinois Central and will be run to Sixty-third street as near as possible to the gate of Oakwoods cemetery. It will arrive there at 2 p. m. and will be met by the military from Fort Sheridan under command of Gen. Wesley Merritt. From the train the funeral procession will take up its march for the cemetery chapel in the following order: The military, the hearse, the Loyal Legion, the family and Presidential party and other Washington officials. Judges and members of the bar, Federal and other officials. There will be no "taps" sounded nor volleys fired over the grave. A delegation of twelve members of the Indianapolis bar are here to attend Judge Gresham's funeral.

In the cemetery chapel brief services will be conducted by the Rev. S. J. McPherson of the Second Presbyterian church. Then the body will be placed in the vault, where it will lie until the family of the dead secretary of state descends upon the last resting place. Simplicity and quiet will characterize the entire ceremony.

Slackens the Speed.

Pittsburg, Pa., May 30.—The Gresham funeral train reaches Chicago about 2 o'clock this afternoon. It arrived in Pittsburg at 9:40 last night and without coming into the Baltimore and Ohio station was switched to the Pittsburg and Western road at Laughlins. After leaving Cumberland Secretary Lamont issued orders to check the speed of the special to twenty-five miles an hour to avoid any possible accident. With the exception of Secretary Lamont none of the passengers left the cars while the train was being switched. The special is running as the second section of No. 5.

Legislators to Attend.

Springfield, Ill., May 30.—The members of the XXXIXth general assembly will pay their respects to the memory of Walter Q. Gresham at his funeral. A committee of sixteen members will attend the obsequies.

BASEBALL REPORT.

Games Played in the National League Yesterday.

Only two games were played in the National League yesterday, as follows: At New York.—Philadelphia .2 0 0 5 0 0 1 1 1 0 0—11 New York .2 2 1 0 3 0 1 0 1 0 0—10

At Washington.—Washington .1 2 0 0 0 2 0 1 0—6 Pittsburg .0 0 0 0 0 0 0 1 1 3—8

Following are the games scheduled for to-day, each club playing two games: Chicago at New York; St. Louis at Boston; Louisville at Baltimore; Pittsburg at Washington; Cincinnati at Philadelphia; Cleveland at Brooklyn.

Iowa State League Games.

At Burlington, Ia.—Burlington, 2; Clinton, 8.
At Ottumwa, Ia.—Ottumwa, 5; Cedar Rapids, 6.
At Waterloo, Ia.—Dubuque, 9; Waterloo, 8.

In the Western League.

At Grand Rapids, Mich.—Grand Rapids, 11; Milwaukee, 8.
At Toledo, O.—Toledo, 5; St. Paul, 7.
At Detroit, Mich.—Detroit, 14; Kansas City, 6.

IMPORTANT ISSUE SETTLED.

Seminary Control Question Disposed Of by United Presbyterians.

Pittsburg, Pa., May 30.—The first part of yesterday's session of the United States general assembly was given to the hearing of reports. The committee on education made a favorable report showing that the seminaries have productive endowments of $284,000 and colleges have an invested endowment of $348,000. The question of seminary control was then finally disposed of. The majority report proposed that the general assembly have the veto power and also the authority to remove professors from the seminaries for unsoundness in the faith.

Dr. Price's Cream Baking Powder World's Fair Highest Award.

SAVE ONE BOAT LOAD FROM THE COLIMA

NEWS OF THE COLIMA'S LOSS CONFIRMED.

Latest Reports Received Give the Number of Lost at 160—List of the Passengers—Those Who Were Saved—Officers of the Company Sanguine.

San Francisco, Cal., May 30.—Only meager advices have been received here as yet regarding the foundering of the Pacific Mail steamer Colima at Manzanillo, Mexico. The officials of the Pacific Mail persist that they have received no information of the wreck of the steamer, and they have tried to discredit entirely the statements of the disaster. Several dispatches have been received by the Merchants' Exchange and by private shipping firms all confirming the tale of the tragedy, and varying only in the minuteness of the information conveyed.

Capt. Pitts of the steamer San Juan telegraphed that he picked up a boat containing nineteen persons, fourteen of whom were passengers and five members of the crew of the Colima. The rescued boatload was taken to Manzanillo and the steamer San Juan started out again in search of other boats from the Colima, the presumption being that the balance of passengers and crew was afloat in other boats. The occupants of the boat picked up were as follows: Cabin passengers, Domingo Albano Thornton, Rutz, Cushing, Sarabia.

Steering passengers, John Crew, Antonio Rome, S. O'Reilly, Jose A. Salla, H. W. Boyd, R. Ross, G. Rowan, L. L. Zancore.

Crew, O. Hansen third officer, A. Carpenter, A. K. Richardson, storekeeper, Raymond Aviles, J. Morel.

Following is the list of cabin passengers and their respective destinations: C. H. E. Orme, New York; J. E. Roberts, New York; Mrs. J. E. Roberts, New York; Prof. Harold Whiting, New York; Mrs. Whiting and four children; Miss Helen Muller, New York; W. H. Adler, New York; W. H. Bryan, New York; C. H. Cushing, San Jose de Guatemala; George S. Cushing, San Jose de Guatemala; John N. Thornton, San Jose de Guatemala; Mrs. Charles Thornton, San Jose de Guatemala; Miss Jessie Davis, San Jose de Guatemala; Lewis H. Peters, San Jose de Guatemala; J. E. Chibborg, Acapulco; Lang Chong and wife, Acapulco; Domingo Albano, San Jose; Charles Stuckman, San Jose; J. W. C. Maxwell, Mazatlan; S. M. R. Muller, Mazatlan; Phelps, Calloa; T. F. Bell, Mazatlan; U. S. American, Mazatlan; Geo. V. Gray, Mazatlan; A. J. Sutherland, San Jose; Ricardo Merlos, Acapulco; S. F. Grisby, Mazatlan; C. Irving, San Benito; Mrs. L. R. Brewer and family, one servant and children, San Benito; Alfred Alonzo, San Benito.

In the steerage bound for New York: H. V. Uniona, W. P. Buckley, Johannes J. Monwens, John W. Crew, Gustave A. Mewis, G. D. Ross, C. Gustave, J. H. W. Smith, L. L. Sangare, Dennis Carey, J. Schoenfeldt, J. W. Boyd, C. L. Coolidge, D. Constantinesco, R. Tovego, G. Rowan, Peter Golas, F. Bolalean, John Keller, Albert Morton, Charles Romeln, Allen McMorrell, Mrs. May McMorrell, George Ferrell, Mrs. A. Glock and two children, John Stein, for San Jose de Guatemala; Antonio Ramiz, Jose Desame, Jose Antonio Saliz, Jose Merel, Breno Cerda, Felix Silveira, C. W. McCutchen, San Blas, Mrs. Diaz, Manzanilla, T. J. Oriel, San Benito.

Officers of the Colima: J. F. Taylor, captain; D. E. Griffiths, first officer; George Langbourne, second officer; G. Hansen, third officer; W. T. Kirby, surgeon; William Wolford, purser; T. E. Berry, freight clerk; O. K. Richardson, storekeeper; William A. Smith, chief engineer; E. D. Reardon, first assistant engineer; H. Finley, second assistant engineer; A. Tommerg, third assistant engineer.

Just how many of the passengers were aboard the vessel when the accident occurred which sent her to the bottom cannot be ascertained. The vessel stops at Mazatlan and San Blas before reaching Manzanilla and passengers were landed and taken on at both places. The Colima was due at Manzanilla Sunday, May 26. The dispatches show that the vessel foundered Monday off Manzanilla, which would indicate that some accident to the machinery occurred and prevented her from reaching the port of Manzanilla. The officers of the Pacific Mail Steamship company do not believe the vessel struck a hidden ledge. They are more inclined to think that the cause of the disaster was an accident to the machinery. They believe that the loss of life will prove to be much less than at present feared. The vessel had six lifeboats ready to be launched at a moment's notice.

Further Evidence.

A man came in from Evansville yesterday and said: "I see you are selling very cheap, is that so?" We showed him some suits, he selected one, paid for it and took it away. Another, a business man in Janesville, came in and said: "Is it a fact that you are cutting prices the way you say?" We told him to judge for himself, as he knew considerable about clothing, and showed him some suits. He selected one, paid for it, and said, "It's a fact." The prices we are putting on a clothing line are nowhere. If there is a doubting "Thomas," we will give the names of the above parties. Frank H. Baack.

A Moonlight Excursion.

The Sunday school of the First M. E. church will give a moonlight excursion, eight miles up the river, on Tuesday evening, June 4. They have engaged the Columbia for the occasion, also the barges which will be covered and fitted up with seats and railing, and fastened to the steamer, providing ample accommodations for four hundred people. They have also engaged the Aaron orchestra for the evening, and have made all other necessary arrangements to insure a good time. Come one and all.

Ottawa, Ont., May 30.—A report has reached here that thirty-three shantymen, camped for the night on a raft in the Spanish river, were swept away and drowned. It cannot be confirmed.

THE TOWN TALK OF A DAY.

INGOMAR the Barbarian, was the attraction at Ebinger Grand last evening. There were so many counter attractions that the audience was not as large as it otherwise would have been, yet those who attended enjoyed a rare treat in the dramatic line. As Ingomar, Mr. D'Ormand is the best we have ever witnessed. He has a powerful voice, a commanding presence, and a magnetism that holds the audience as if by magic. He is rarely equipped as a tragedian. Miss Fuller as Parthenia, was simply splendid, a veritable Greek girl, with a voice sweet and musical, yet powerful. The entire company is good, and should be greeted with a full house tonight, when they present Pygmalion and Galatea.—Fort Madison, Iowa, Plaindealer.

The unbroken regularity of the visits of Dr. Brewer, the celebrated physician, is at once the best evidence of his professional standing, and of his success in the treatment of disease. Those out of health we believe, can have implicit confidence in Dr. Brewer, and feel certain in consulting with him, that he is thoroughly educated, with years of experience in the treatment of chronic diseases exclusively. He will be for consultation on his next visit at the Park hotel on Monday, June 3.

BURNS said: "Devil take the hind most." That seems to be the idea in the business world today. You don't employ the unsuccessful doctor nor the unsuccessful lawyer who has no clients. Nor buy shoes of the hindmost dealer in the town you live in. We don't want to be the last store in the town. We intend to lead in quality of goods, in variety of stock and when it comes to price our reputation is already established. Brown Bros. & Lincoln.

The party who objected to the bicycle because he wanted his "fate on the ground whin" he walked, was without doubt a level headed gentleman, but if he had on a pair of those $5 North shoes at the even $3, he would not be half so particular. We always have just what we advertise, and at the price we name. Brown Bros. & Lincoln.

SEVERAL have been in to see the Henney buggies and compare with those other makes we have on our floor, and after looking at them they took the Henney; anybody would; there is such a vast difference. It's just like comparing gold with copper. F. A. Taylor.

Not a minute to be lost. From one customer to another we go, selling buggies all the time. No such mode! buggies were ever shown in Janesville, and we are happy to say the people appreciate it. F. A. Taylor.

WHEN we sell a Henney buggy we can do so with a clear conscience as we can safely recommend it to be the best there is and we know the buggy will bear us out in our assertions. Ten thousand of them sold every year.

THE "buckboards" are here, 150 strong; see them in windows and front of store. With every child's 2-piece suit, no difference how low priced, we will give one of these "buckboards." Frank Baack.

We have the finest line of gents' tan shoes in the city for the least money, and in all the latest toes and shades. Lloyd & Son.

We commence this morning a boys' suit sale. Every suit in the house has been marked just half, and besides we throw in a "Buckboard" such as you see displayed in our windows. Frank Baack.

SOME of the coal that is sold at the low price has been on the docks for the past ten years. When you want fresh coal look at ours. Janesville Coal Co.

It won't be long until you will see almost every boy in the town hauling one of those "buckboards," and each one will represent a suit, as with every suit we give a buckboard. Frank Baack.

ANOTHER large invoice of wall paper and window shades. Great clearance sale during the month of June at Sutherland's bookstore.

SEE our line of children's tan goods. They are beautiful, all styles and colors. We can save you some money. Lloyd & Son.

DON'T buy coal with whiskers on. When you want fresh-mined coal come and see us. Janesville Coal Co. Those roaches which infest your sink can easily be gotten rid of with a little "Dead Stuck." A quarter will last all summer. Dunn Bros.

Just examine our coal and compare it with that with whiskers on, and see the difference in quality. Janesville Coal Co.

A LITTLE "Dead Stuck" will fix those bugs so you can sleep well at night. 25 cents worth will last a year. Dunn Bros.

If you want good butter, buy northern dairy, it's the best, 16 cents a pound. Nolan Bros.

We warrant our goods and stand by the warranty. We are here to stay. Lloyd & Son.

PLENTY of northern dairy butter, 16 cents a pound. Nolan Bros.

All the valuable new books for summer at Sutherland's.

Dr. Price's Cream Baking Powder World's Fair Highest Award and Diploma.

Ceylon Tea Store.

I now open with a complete line of teas, coffees and pure spices only, which will be sold as low as the quality will warrant. Stock will be in charge of C. E. Rose. Call in and see us. I. C. Brownell, 38 S. Main St.

Dr. Price's Cream Baking Powder Awarded Gold Medal Midwinter Fair, San Francisco.

THE CROPS SUFFER FROM GREAT HEAT

GOOD NEWS FROM WHEAT
FIELDS IS SCARCE.

To Add to Damage Done by Hot Winds and Drouth, Locusts Have Made Their Appearance in Iowa—Unseasonable Weather General.

Louisville, Ill., May 30.—A scorching wind from the south raged for about thirty-six hours yesterday, amounting almost to a gale, carrying with it clouds of dust. The mercury had been at 94 degrees in the shade. The drouth is causing solicitude among the farmers. Unless rain comes soon this county will be in a dangerous condition. The wheat crop is a thing of the past and gardens are drying up. The hot winds are general, and crop damage goes steadily on.

LOCUSTS IN IOWA.

The Seventeen-Year Pest Is Beginning Its Ravages.

Des Moines, Iowa, May 30.—From a number of places in this county come reports that the seventeen-year locusts, the scourge that impoverished the Northwest a number of years ago, are here again. The last time they visited this section was in 1878. Thus far the locusts have not done much damage to crops, but seem to prefer the trees. But in some places they have destroyed all green vegetation over a large area. They are daily multiplying in numbers and the most serious results are expected.

Alarming Reports from Indiana.

Indianapolis, Ind., May 30.—Reports are being received of drouth and sun burning up the wheat, oats and rye, already damaged from May freezing. There is a heavy shortage in moisture in this State since Jan. 1, and the extreme hot weather that has both preceded and followed the May freeze is reported to have ruined crop prospects. Through the central part of the State wheat fields have been plowed up by the dozen and planted in corn. Yesterday the mercury went to 93 here and was above 90 all over the State, making twice this month that the high May record for twenty-four years has been broken. There was one fatal prostration by the heat.

Rainfall in Kansas.

Omaha, Neb., May 30.—The feeling of despair which was settling upon the people of Central and Southern Nebraska has been dispelled by one of the heaviest rains which ever fell in that section. In the region in which are situated the cities of Kearney, Grand Island, Broken Bow, and Hastings, rain began falling at 5 o'clock last evening, and was still falling in torrents at 9 o'clock, filling even cellars to overflowing and causing the streets to become rivers. One dispatch said that the hot winds had done one great good, in killing the cut worm, which was destroying the cereal. Dispatches are to the effect that rain is coming eastward.

Hot Weather Over in Nebraska.

Lincoln, Neb., May 30.—It looks as if the hot weather is at an end. Monday and Tuesday the wind blew a gale from the south while the thermometer marked from 95 degrees to 100 degrees above zero. At 7 o'clock Tuesday evening it stood at 96 degrees. Yesterday was slightly cooler and less windy here, while in some portions of the state, notably the central southern part, copious rains fell. None has fallen here, but conditions are favorable for a rain soon.

Wisconsin Crop Not Badly Damaged.

Madison, Wis., May 30.—Yesterday the thermometer stood close to 100 degrees in the shade and a hot wind blowing over the farms, extracting more moisture from the soil per minute than is ordinarily seen here in the course of a month. Reports from different parts of the state indicate the same experience. The crops may not be said to show especial evidences of suffering so far, though rain is generally needed.

FIVE Chippewa Falls young men were fined $10 each for violating the fishing law.

Did you ever see one of the famous waterproof Interlined Collars or Cuffs? It's very easy to tell, for they are all marked this way

TRADE MARK. ELLULOID

They are the only Interlined Collars and Cuffs, and are made of linen, covered with waterproof "CELLULOID." They'll stand right by you day in and day out, and they are all marked this way

TRADE MARK. ELLULOID

The first cost is the only cost, for they keep clean a long time, and when soiled you can clean them in a minute by simply wiping off with a wet cloth—that is the kind marked this way

TRADE MARK. ELLULOID

These collars and cuffs will outlast six linen ones. The wearer escapes laundry trials and laundry bills—no chafed neck and no wilting down if you get a collar marked this way

TRADE MARK. ELLULOID

Ask your dealer first, and take nothing that has not above trade mark if you desire perfect satisfaction. All others are imitations absolutely.

If you can't find collars or cuffs marked this way, we will send you a sample postpaid on receipt of price. Collars, 25 cts. each. Cuffs 50 cts. pair. Give your size and say whether stand-up or turned-down collar is wanted.

THE CELLULOID COMPANY, 427-29 Broadway, NEW YORK.

The Shrewd Buyer

invests in times like these. Values will surely increase from prices now quoted. I am offering a few choice residences and vacant lots centrally located, at prices that have been forced down by adverse circumstances. Twenty per cent reduction will be made from former close prices. An $800 lot on Main street for $400. There is no boom 'bus line running to this lot. It is down town where other people live. Two fine residence lots in First ward near Grant school for $300 each.

Money to Loan at Six Per Cent.

C. E. BOWLES,

Over M. & M. Bank, Janesville, Wis.

Wall Paper.

Window Glass, Window Shades, Room Mouldings, Artist Materials, Kent's Furniture Polish, Johnson's Floor Wax, Paints, Varnishes, Oil, Brushes, Etc.

Painting and Paper Hanging.

Estimates Furnished.

KENT PAINT CO.

122 W. Milwaukee St.

—THE NEW—

Commision Firm

—OF—

JAMES H.

McDonald & Co.

Exchange Square

will be open ready for business, Friday morning, May 31. Continuous markets received. Patrons please call.

CATARRH

DIRECTION for using CREAM BALM Apply a particle of the Balm well into the nostrils. After a moment draw strong breath through the nose. Use it several times a day, a few meals preferred as before retiring.

ELLY'S CREAM BALM opens and cleanses the Nasal Passages, Allays Pain and Inflammation, Heals the Sores, Protects the Membrane from Cold, Restores the Senses of Taste and Smell. The Balm is quickly absorbed and gives relief at once. Price 50 cents at Druggists or by mail. ELY BROTHERS, 86 Warren St. New York.

Can't Help It.

Everybody likes a bargain nowadays. We secured the McGregor stock of ## Music and Muscial Instruments.

at such figures as to enable us to sell at less than half the original price. A large line of high grade at prices that you will never be offered again. We have some bargains in Pianos that is a chance in a life time. Investigate before you buy.

Violins and Guitars

P. S. PETERSON.

115 W. Milwaukee.

PEOPLE Contemplating

BUILDING will

SAVE MONEY By Calling on me

BUILDER & CONTRACTOR

No. 31 Clark Street.

MARTIN GARVIN.

J. B. GREEN Manufacturer of

Sash, Doors, Blinds, Brackets,

Mouldings, Hard and Soft Wood Finish

Scroll Sawing, Wood Turning

Grille Work a Specialty.

proprietor of Phoenix Planing Mill, on race road near postoffice, Janesville, Wis.

Awarded
Highest Honors—World's Fair.
DR.
PRICE'S CREAM
BAKING POWDER
MOST PERFECT MADE.

A pure Grape, Cream of Tartar Powder. Free from Ammonia. Alum or any other adulterant.

40 YEARS THE STANDARD

HONORS WERE EASY.

A hard-looking tramp came into the office of the charities of a certain metropolitan church with a most forlorn story of destitution. The minister in charge had previously received unfavorable reports of this very man from the Charity Organization society. After listening to his story he said: "I have heard all about you from the Charity Organization society. They don't think very much of you."

"Faix, thin," said the man, "we're even, fur I don't think very much of thin."—Harper's Magazine.

A LOW REMARK.

"I suggest, Mrs. Bordmore," said the smart young boarder, who was a low fellow anyway, "that you introduce a novel attraction into your menus."

"What is it, Mr. Smartweed?" asked his landlady, stiffly.

"I suggest," said the young man, as he eyed the shortcake in front of him, "that you contribute to our gayety and amusement by offering a prize to the boarder who can first discover the strawberry in his piece of shortcake."—Chicago Record.

COULD NOT RESIST.

They quarreled, and he said, with pain, "He'd never speak to her again. In fact no longer could endure her. Next day she had an awful cold. And to tell her—what would surely cure her."—Brooklyn Life.

SHE TOOK THEM ALL.

"They are pretty! How do you sell them?"

"Please, ma'am, just by offerin' 'em to lovely ladies like yerself!"—Truth.

TOO LATE.

He longed to see his name in print—the hope his bosom cheered—

But he suffered disappointment rather solemn.

For although eventually in the papers it appeared,

'Twas, alas, in the obituary column.

—Brooklyn Life.

PLEASANT FOR MAMMA.

Little Johnnie (looking curiously at the visitor)—Where did the chicken bite you, Mr. Billus? I don't see any of the marks.

Visitor—Why, Johnny, I haven't been bitten by any chicken.

Johnny—Mamma, didn't you tell pap Mr. Billus was dreadfully henpecked?

Why, mamma, how funny you look! Your face is all red.—Texas Siftings.

HANDLED WITH CARE.

Customer (who has just purchased a wonderfully cheap set of furniture)—Do you always pack furniture carefully before delivering it?

New Boy—This kind we do, 'cause the jarring would shake it to pieces.—N. Y. Weekly.

WORSE THAN CRITICAL.

"They tell me that the editor is not very well," said the poet's friend.

"He is feeling quite badly," was the reply. "I called on him this morning."

"Is his condition critical?"

"Worse than that; it's abusive."—Washington Star.

A FORLORN HOPE.

"Tramp—Can't you give a poor man a few cents?"

Mrs. Hardup—Just sit down and wait until my husband comes home. I need some small change myself, and we will both tackle him and divide up what we get.—Texas Siftings.

IN THESE DAYS.

Manager—How many characters in your drama?

Playwright—Six at the beginning, and five at the end.

"How do you mean?"

"The heroine loses hers as the plot develops."—Puck.

DIFFERENT.

Unfair Lawyer—Yes, I think a breach of promise suit will lie. Now, what damages do you wish to sue for?

Fair Client—Oh! I want to sue for money, sir. I've damages enough already.—Truth.

NO OPPORTUNITY FOR CONVERSATION.

Mrs. Flybelle—That horrid Mr. Bullbeef, who insulted you, is a British subject, is he not, dear?

Mrs. Handsoffe (whose husband has kicked him out of the house)—Yes, and a very sore one, too.—Life.

TWO DIFFERENT WAYS.

She (romantically)—Darling, for you I would walk over a precipice. What would you do for me?

He (promptly and practically)—Walk under one and catch you.—Brooklyn Life.

HE WAS FORGIVEN.

Polly (to her fiancée)—Tom, you danced four times with that girl Jenkins, and only twice with me.

Tom (slyly)—Well, it takes quantity, you know, to make up for quality.—Pearson's.

HIS IDENTITY.

Housewife (suspiciously)—Aren't you the tramp to whom I gave a whole mince pie last week?

Ragged Haggard—None, I'm his ghost.—Truth.

POOR TASTE.

"De man dat lubs de soun' ob his own voice," said Uncle Eben, "hez mos' allus got mighty poh' taste."—Richmond Star.

THE WHEELWOMAN.

For bicycling she does not care

A little bit, 'tis known.

Save that it gives her chances rare

In bloomers to be shown.

DOG PETE'S COMMON SENSE.

No Pedigree and No Repertory of Tricks, But He Knew a Good Deal.

He was not a thoroughbred, high-toned dog with an ancestry that made him a canine aristocrat. He was a plebeian hound, democratic and homespun in his ways, with a degree of intelligence and common sense that would do credit to man, the speaking animal. His name was Pete, and for fourteen years he was a member of the family of N. M. Wright of East Hartland. He had a good head on him for a dog, and many of his feats of mind power, so to speak, are traditions in the family. He knew all the members of the family when their various names were called and would approach the mother or the aunt whenever told to do so, and would never make a mistake. One instance of Pete's sagacity is worth noting as showing the quality of the dog, says the Hartford Courant. It was during the period of heavy snow and impassable roads immediately succeeding the March blizzard of 1888. One of the members of the family was away from home six miles and a half and sick. There was no way to get any word to or from her, with the snow six to ten feet deep in the roads. Pete was familiar with the place where the sick person was and how to go there. He also appeared very nervous and evidently missed the sick one from the house. One day it occurred that communication might be established by Pete. A note was tied about his neck and he was told to go and find the sick one. He plunged into the snow, made his way six miles and a half, and each day for two weeks made the same trip, varying scarcely a minute from two hours and a half on any trip. Well, Pete grew old. He was weak, his teeth were gone, and it was hard lines for the old hound. Mr. Wright, although he has shot many animals in his capacity as agent for the Humane society, could not bring himself to part company with a friend that had done such faithful service and been so worthy a member of the family. So it happened that one day this week Dwight W. Thrall, the general agent of the society, was out in Hartland and he was called upon to perform the sad office. Pete was sent across the Styx painlessly at the muzzle of Mr. Thrall's revolver. His body was put in a new pine box and he was accorded a decent burial; and there were real tears from those who loved him.

GERMANS ARE ALERT.

The Government Stands Between the People and Poisons.

In a recent report by Dr. H. W. Wiley it is stated that in Germany the law requires that the tins employed for holding canned goods shall not contain more than 1 per cent of lead, while in this country there is no restriction whatever in regard to the character of the tin used, the result of this latter fact being the employment of cans in some cases containing as high as 12 per cent of lead. This practice prevails, notwithstanding the unanimity among physiologists as to the effect of lead salts upon the human system, the continual ingestion of even minute quantities of lead into the system being followed, eventually, by the most serious consequences—painters' colic, lead palsy and other trying diseases well known to physicians being the direct effects of continual exposure of the system to any such minute portions of lead salts. It is said to be possible to exclude the latter by requiring that the tin shall not contain say more than 1½ per cent of lead, also that the solder be as free from lead as possible. In Germany, the solder made use of in sealing the cans is not allowed to contain over 10 per cent of lead, while in this country the analysis of numerous samples of the solder applied shows that it contains fully 50 per cent of lead—in addition to this being the lack of care to prevent such solder from coming into contact with the contents of the can, and large surfaces of solder on the seams are often exposed to the action of the acid contents of the can.

CARBON IN IRON.

Affects Its Resistance to Corrosion and Oxidation.

The opinion is expressed by a writer in the Scientific American, in regard to wrought iron being at the present day the fashionable product in use by civil engineers, of the growing impression that too much faith has been placed in it—the tendency to its use being a species of reaction from the former days of brittle materials—and like many other reactions, probably carried too far. The presence of carbon in iron, it is remarked, not only affects the resistance of iron to strains, but affects its resistance to corrosion and oxidation, soft iron acted on by the atmosphere in the presence of moisture oxidizing, the carbon dioxide of the air being probably active elements in the operation—cast iron, on the other hand, resisting oxidation almost like stone or brick, and while inferior in textile strength to modern structural steel, and if subjected to a distorting strain breaks before it bends to any extent, is strong enough for almost all purposes, and no one supposes that the steel members of a building are to bend or twist, or even to be subjected to strains which cast iron would not perfectly resist. This writer asserts that the recent extensive introduction of steel castings indicates

MERCURIAL POISON

Is the result of the usual treatment of blood disorders. The system is filled with Mercury and Potash remedies—more to be dreaded than the disease—and in a short while is in a far worse condition than before. The common result is for which S.S.S. is the most reliable cure. A few bottles will afford relief where all else has failed. I suffered from a severe attack of Mercurial Rheumatism, my arms and legs being swollen to twice their natural size, causing the most excruciating pains. I spent hundreds of dollars without relief, but after taking a few bottles of S.S.S. I improved rapidly and am now a well man, completely cured. I can heartily recommend it to any one suffering from this painful disease. W. F. DALEY, Brooklyn Elevated R.R.

RHEUMATISM

Our Treatise on Blood and Skin Diseases mailed free to any address. SWIFT SPECIFIC CO., Atlanta, Ga.

the practicability of supplying castings of comparatively low percentage of carbon, wide enough of the latter to make the material not too brittle, yet not so much as to make it too brittle.

THE POOREST GIRLS.

The poorest girls in the world are those not taught to work. There are thousands of them. Rich parents have petted them, and they have been taught to despise labor and to depend upon others for a living, and are perfectly helpless. The most forlorn women belong to this class. It is the duty of parents to protect their daughters from this deplorable condition. They do them a great wrong if they neglect it. Every daughter should be taught to earn her own living. The rich as well as the poor require this training. The wheel of fortune rolls swiftly round: the rich are likely to become poor and the poor rich. Skill added to labor is no disadvantage to the rich, and is indispensable to the poor. Well-to-do parents must educate their daughters to work. No reform is more imperative than this.—London Gentlewoman.

A TERRIBLE STRAIN.

"You look weary," said Mr. Cochran to his favorite wife.

"I look just as I feel, then," cackled the ambitious hen. "The exertion of keeping my eggs up to the size of modern hailstones is wearing my life away." Judge.

REMEMBER there are hundreds of brands of White Lead (so called) on the market that are not White Lead, composed largely of Barytes and other cheap materials. But the number of brands of genuine

Strictly Pure

White Lead

is limited. The following brands are standard "Old Dutch" process, and just as good as they were when you or your father were boys:

"Southern," "Red Seal," "Collier," "Shipman."

FOR COLORS.—National Lead Co.'s Pure White Lead Tinting Colors, a one-pound can to a 25-pound keg of Lead and mix your own paints. Saves time and annoyance in matching shades, and insures the best paint that is possible to put on wood.

Send us a postal card and get our book on paints and color-card, free; it will probably save you a good many dollars.

NATIONAL LEAD CO.
Chicago Branch,
State and Fifteenth Streets, Chicago.

NEW LIFE

Dr. E. C. West's Nerve and Brain Treatment is sold under positive written guarantee, by authorized agents of... to cure Weak Memory; Loss of Brain and Nervous Power; Lost Manhood; Quikness; Night Losses; Evil Dreams; Lack of Confidence; Nervousness; Lassitude; all Drains; Loss of Power of the Generative Organs in either sex, caused by Over-exertion; Youthful Errors; or Excessive Use of Tobacco, Opium or Liquor, which soon lead to Misery, Consumption, Insanity and Death. By mail, $1 a box; 6 for $5; with written guarantee to cure or refund money. WEST'S COUGH SYRUP. A certain cure for Coughs, Colds, Asthma, Bronchitis, Croup, Whooping Cough, Sore Throat. Pleasant to take. Small size discontinued; old 5c. size, now 25c.; old 10c. size, now 50c. GUARANTEED issued only by Prentice & Evenson, sole agents.

Janesville, Wis.

VIGOR OF MEN

Easily, Quickly, Permanently Restored.

Weakness, Nervousness, Debility, and all the train of evils from early errors or of later excesses, the results of overwork, sickness, worry, etc. Full strength, development and tone given to every organ and portion of the body. Simple, natural methods. Immediate improvement seen. Failure impossible. 2,000 references. Book, explanation and proofs mailed (sealed) free.

ERIE MEDICAL CO., Buffalo, N. Y.

FOR RENT.

TO RENT—8 room house, No. 20 Milwaukee Avenue, paper and paint new, artesian water gas etc. With or without bath. Wilson Lane, Atty. at Law.

FOR RENT—Furnished house for two or three months. Address "A." Gazette office.

FOR RENT—Good house and barn. Rent cheap. R. L. Brown.

MISCELLANEOUS

LOST—One gold and one silver hairpin, on Jackson or West Milwaukee street. Finder will be rewarded at No. 1 South Jackson street.

FOR SALE—Fine new upright piano cheap. And on very easy terms. Address "A. T. S." care Gazette office.

FOR SALE—Surrey, buggy and cart, very cheap, almost as good as new. R. Valentine.

MONEY to loan, E. C. Burdick.

FOR SALE—One of the best farms in Wisconsin; adjoins the city of Edgerton; 30 acres woodland, 30 acres well improved farm land. Terms very satisfactory. Inquire Gazette office.

WANTED.

WANTED—A good girl for general housework at 165 North High street.

FOR RENT—6 pair crutches at low prices. Helmstreet's drug store.

WANTED 20 farmers to buy our Luna buggy paint. Paint your carriage in fine style for $1. Helmstreet's drug store.

WANTED—Ladies and gentlemen to drink Saratoga water, free at Helmstreet's drug store Wednesday afternoon.

WASHING and ironing neatly done at 155 North Bluff street.

MONEY to LOAN—Whitehead & Smith, Room 3, Jackson block, Janesville, Wisconsin.

WANTED—A competent girl to do housework in a family of two, 235 Park Place, Mrs. W. G. Wheelock.

WANTED—Situation by a competent woman as housekeeper, city or country. Apply Park Hotel. Good reference.

WILL be parties who found a pocket book containing $7 in currency, return same to owner, or Gazette office, and receive reward.

WANTED—Business man to travel. Address with references, McGregor, 1130 Caxton Building, Chicago, Ill.

WANTED—A family horse; must be safe for lady or children to drive. Inquire at store, Brown Bros. & Lincoln.

We Manufacture

We Keep In Stock

INMAN & BOLLARD.

Doubt About Insurance.

Insuring in a questionable company is like depositing in a shaky bank. Both concerns may pull through, but why take the risk? Read this list:

Royal Insurance Company	Net Surplus, $2,195,942.
Buffalo German	Net Surplus, $1,005,549.
New Hampshire Fire Insurance Company	Net Surplus, $ 434,639.
Traders' Insurance Company	Net Surplus, $1,303,554.
Commercial Union Assurance Company	Net Surplus, $ 33,483.
Northwestern National Insurance Company	Net Surplus, $ 401,889.
Pennsylvania National Fire Insurance Company	Net Surplus, $1,230,174.

All these Companies are Represented in my Agency. The figures quoted suggest Safety, Reliability and Ample Protection. These are points worth considering.

SILAS HAYNER, Room 10, Jackson Block.

TELEPHONE 149

DR. MOTT'S PENNYROYAL PILLS. The only safe, sure and reliable Female FILL ever offered to Ladies, especially recommended to married Ladies. Ask for DR. MOTT'S PENNYROYAL PILLS and take no other. Send for circular. Price $1.00 per box, 6 boxes for $5.00. DR. MOTT'S CHEMICAL CO., Cleveland, Ohio.

PRENTICE & EVENSON, Janesville, Wis.

EVERY WOMAN Sometimes needs a reliable, monthly, regulating medicine. Only harmless and the purest drugs should be used. If you want the best, get Dr. Peal's Pennyroyal Pills. They are prompt, safe and certain in result. The genuine (Dr. Peal's) never change color. Sent anywhere, $1.00.

Sold by Prentice & Evenson druggists Janesville

F. A. TAYLOR

Needless to tire you with wordy comment upon the most Popular Buggy in the world

The Henny.

HENNEY BUGGY CO.
FREETPORT, ILL. U.S.A.

You, have examined it know the worth and value of such a vehicle; never in the history of man was such a superb buggy offered for sale. It equal has not been made.

Worth Twice What we Get.

F. A. TAYLOR.

The Man With 100 Buggies.

THE JANESVILLE GAZETTE

THE OFFICIAL CITY PAPER.

Entered at the postoffice at Janesville, Wis., as second-class matter.

Terms of Subscription.

Daily edition one year.....$3.00
 Parts of a year, per month.....50
 Weekly edition, one year.....$1.50
 Special Advertising Notice

We charge full rates for cards of thanks, obituary poems, financial statements of insurance companies, and all other classes of items not considered news.

We publish free, marriages, deaths and obituary notices, without poetry; also notices of church and society meetings.

We publish at half rates church and society notes of entertainments given for revenue.

THE HEROIC DEAD.

Four score and seven years ago our fathers brought forth upon this continent a new nation, conceived in liberty, and dedicated to the purpose that all men are created equal. Now we are engaged in a great civil war, testing whether that nation, or any nation so conceived and so dedicated, can long endure. We are met on a great battle-field of that war. We have come to dedicate a portion of that field as a final resting-place for those who here gave their lives that that nation might live. It is altogether fitting and proper that we should do this. But in a larger sense we cannot dedicate, we cannot consecrate we cannot hallow this ground. The great men, living and dead, who struggled here, have consecrated it far above our power to add or detract. The world will little note, nor long remember, what we say here, but it can never forget what they did here. It is for us the living, rather to be dedicated to the unfinished work which they who fought here have thus far so nobly advanced. It is rather for us to be here dedicated to the great task remaining before us, that from these honored dead we take increased devotion to that cause for which they gave the last full measure of devotion; that we highly resolve that these dead shall not have died in vain; that this nation under God, shall have a new birth of freedom, and that government of the people, by the people, and for the people, shall not perish from the earth.—LINCOLN.

MEMORIAL DAY

It is gratifying to note that not only in Janesville, but throughout the country, Memorial day is being generally observed this year, not only by members of the Grand Army but by all classes of citizens as well. Thirty years from the scene of strife, finds a new generation, whose interests in the civil war, is largely a matter of history, and yet but few families are found even now, where some scar is not visible as a reminder of the dark days through which the country passed.

The ranks of the men who took an active part, are fast being depleted. In our own state that furnished close to 100,000 men, 7,000 have fallen by the way during the past twelve months. In a few more years Memorial day will be celebrated, without the presence of the men who sacrificed so much for patriotism. The new generation can well afford to honor them while they are with us, and to cherish their memory as they drop out one by one.

Someone has said that the war of the rebellion belongs to the past, and that out of the ruins and devastation has come to this fair land a better civilization and a broader recognition of a common brotherhood, as the result of sacrifice and loyalty. This is all true, and the fact is generally recognized that the price, in blood and treasure was not wasted. The south was redeemed from itself, and with the redemption, as time effaces the scars, will come the blotting out of the imaginary line that is supposed to divide the great commonwealth, until from the most remote corner of either north or south, will be heard the glad refrain: "one common country." The dawn of the new era has long been visible, and each succeeding year solidifies the nation and contributes to universal and lasting peace. When this transformation is going on it is well for the nation to turn aside one day in the year, and acknowledge with grateful tribute the debt of gratitude it owes to the men who survive, and the memory of the men who have gone.

NEWS OF LOCAL IMPORT.

This is an excellent climate for such shoes as we sell. The best always predominates in Janesville and the "offal" can find no place. We have an article that no man can gain say, and we have no hesitancy in pushing it onto the people and pushing it hard, 50 cents on the dollar for the best shoes ever made, and a stock of $30,000 to select from is not picked up every day in the year. Open Friday morning. Becker & Woodruff.

In respect to the dead heroes who fought so bravely that we might live here, we have closed our store this afternoon and evening and will open it again Friday morning with renewed effort, 50 cents on the dollar takes any shoe in the house. Becker & Woodruff.

Our east window is full of new and beautiful parasols, all adapted for this hot weather. They are the new designs, and all the late colors, white, black and colored, at our usual saving of 20 per cent. Bort, Bailey & Co.

This is warm enough for parasols and we have 1,000 new and beautiful ones in white, black and colored which we offer you at our usual low price, a saving of 20 per cent. Bort, Bailey & Co.

"We would rather be right than be president," for in being right we know the majority is with us, and we are selling shoes to that majority at 50 cents on the dollar that will never be duplicated again for the money. Only half price takes any shoe. Becker & Woodruff.

We are keeping this day in memory of the heroes who fought so bravely that we might be privileged to sell and manufacture the best buggies on earth. Wisconsin Carriage Top Co.

MORE shoes than any three stores in Janesville. No plunder, clean, honest shoemaking. Foot fitting goods. 50 cents on the dollar, that's our figure. Becker & Woodruff.

Crowds of customers all the time. It's a wonder you do not join in. We'll save you just 50 cents on every dollar's worth of shoes you buy of us. Becker & Woodruff.

We guarantee to save you 20 per cent on any parasol we sell, and to give you the finest assortment ever shown in these parts. Bort, Bailey & Company.

No use to pay 18 cents for butter when you can get the best for 16 cents. Northern dairy; every pound guaranteed. Nolan Bros.

ALMOST everyone takes a bath these warm evenings. Copco soap is the best soap to use on these occasions. Prentice & Evenson.

JUST examine our coal and compare it with that with whiskers on, and see the difference in quality. Janesville Coal Co.

PRIVATE sale of furniture, all nearly new and not marred, at 287 South Main street, tomorrow morning.

"JOHN" Brown's cheek is better. It has been chafed a little, but is now able to compete with any cheek.

It's worthy of your attention. Copco soap has no superior as a bath soap. Prentice & Evenson.

We received dressed bullheads, trout and white fish, plenty of them today noon. Dunn Bros.

Use Copco soap when taking a bath these warm evenings. Prentice & Evenson.

Copco soap is the best for baths. Everyone should use it. Prentice & Evenson.

DRESSED bullheads, trout and white fish today noon. Leave orders at Dunn Bros'.

TODAY noon plenty of dressed bull heads, trout and whitefish at Dunn Bros'.

THE LAWYER CHARGED TOO MUCH
 The Wheel in Mrs. Dudley's Troubles Turned Agains.

Evidence was taken before Commissioner Ryan at Milwaukee, in the case of Attorney Barlow, of Philadelphia, against Mrs. Marion V. Dudley, for services rendered in the former's endeavors to establish her sanity and secure her discharge from the care of a guardian. Joshua Stark, in testifying in behalf of the defendant, stated that if Mr. Barlow was in possession of evidence when he took hold of the case, that Mrs. Dudley was not of sound mind, even if he had later secured evidence tending to prove her sanity, he should not have respected her vagaries and requests in all matters, or treated her as a person of whose sanity no doubt existed. He did not think Mr. Barlow was justified in coming to Wisconsin in her interest when she refused to accompany him, and he thought the item of $350 for seventy interviews, in the bill of the Philadelphia attorney, was not just unless Mrs. Dudley had been informed that she had been charged for every time she had called upon him.

U. OF W. FEES WILL BE REDUCED
 Regents Will Cut Them on An Average Of $8 Each.

The increase in tuition fees agreed upon last year by the state university regents will be greatly modified. It is learned that the regents' committee appointed recently will report at the June meeting in favor of modifying the figures first agreed upon, and that an average of $8 will be taken off the original figures of the increase.

New and Nobby Parasols.

Covered with chiffon, silk crepe, Swiss lace, tinted silk linings and colored lace trimmings can now be seen at our store, where the motto "Leaders and Promoters of Low Prices" is always kept uppermost. Bort, Bailey & Co.

No man is well dressed at any price if a butcher cuts his suit.

(The above is stolen but not from Printers' Ink. WHY shouldn't we get regular prices for our suits.)

WE turn out garments that fit and as yet have never had to sell less than cost.

YOU never will find one from this shop that looks like a foot ball after a hard battle with the ozone knocked out.

AND all must acknowledge that we have the truest cutter in this "neck of woods."

OTHERS may not want a profit, we do.

Here is a Knock-out.

Straw Hats

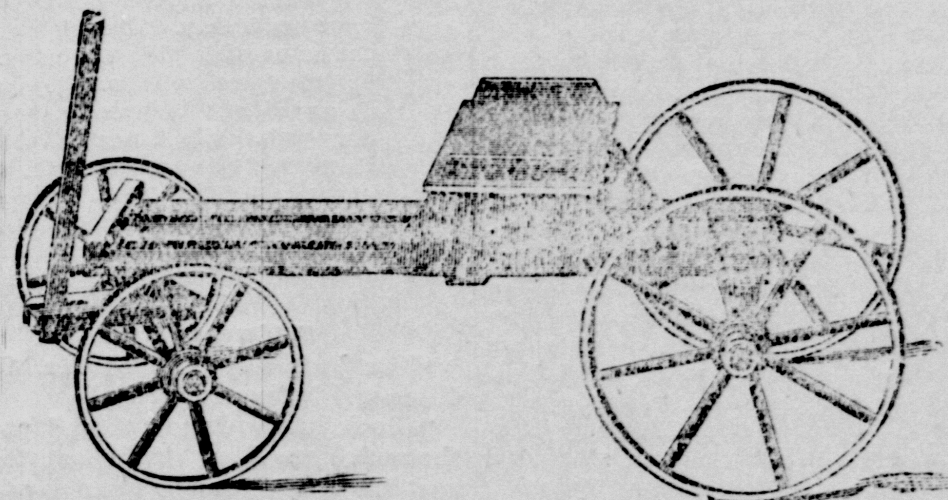

TO GO AT Cost.

Believing that we have bought to many Straw Goods and not desirous of carrying any over. We shall today commence to sell them at cost or within a cent or two of it.

KNEFF & ALLEN,
 Who always tell the truth

Buckboards. HERE.

150 Of Them.

ONE OF THE NICEST ARTICLES FOR BOYS EVER SHOWN IN THE TOWN.

With each and every Child's Suit we Give one of these Buck-boards.

And besides we have placed all our Child's and Boys Suits in our Sacrifice Sale and you can save one-half by purchasing here. We are going to sell some clothing this year.

Buck-board FREE with each Child's Suit.

Bathing Trunks 10c.

FRANK BAACK.

BORT, BAILEY & COMPANY.

1000 New and

Beautiful . . . PARASOLS.

White, Black, Colored.

The lot comprises all the new and nobby shapes.

WHITE PARASOLS—Covered With Chiffon.
 WHITE PARASOLS—Covered with Silk Crepe.
 WHITE PARASOLS—Covered with Swiss.
 WHITE PARASOLS—Covered with Lace.
 WHITE PARASOLS—With Tinted Silk Linings and Colored Lace Trimmings.

There are Black Parasols from $1 to $12 each. They are covered with Surah, Gros Grain, Satin, Chiffon Crepe and trimmed with expensive and elegant laces. There are about 60 of the nobby light-rolling steel frames. Coaching Parasols—all colors, also stripes and checks. Among these coaching parasols are some of the nobbiest things ever brought into our city.

We shall have one of our large display windows full of these new goods and if you want to select something in this line you will have no better opportunity this season.

BORT, BAILEY & COMPANY.

MISS KEPPLER, the expert fitter of Her Majesty's Corset will be with us during the week.

DOCTORS TO COME HERE NEXT WEEK

MEETING OF THE STATE HOM- EOPATHIC SOCIETY.

One Hundred Delegates Are Expected, and the Session Will Be Held at the Hotel Myers on the Afternoon and Evening of June 5—Local Committee at Work.

Janesville will be a great town for physicians on June 5, 6 and 7, and five score of them will visit the Bower City. The occasion will be the annual convention of the Wisconsin State Homeopathic Medical society and delegates will be present from all over Wisconsin. The session will be held at the Hotel Myers and will convene on June 5, and last until June 7. Much business is to be transacted in addition to the reading of papers by the different members etc., as the terms of the officers will expire with this meeting and their successors will be elected at the Janesville meeting. Probably some entertainment will be given the visitors, but what form it will take, has not been considered very much and nothing definite is known. A local committee have the arrangements in hand and they will have all preparations made when the "saw-bones" arrive.

We have lately gone to considerable expense for the proper handling of fresh fish. Orders left for fresh lobsters, soft shell crabs, Roe shad, frogs' legs, clams, salmon and halibut, by 6 p. m. Wednesday, will insure their delivery Friday morning. Conrad & Co. South Main Street.

LADIES interested in dressmaking will do well to call and examine the ladies' tailor system for cutting, on exhibition from 10 to 12 a. m. and 3 to 5 p. m., at M. A. Morrissey & Co's, on the bridge.

The North End Juniors defeated the Second Ward Lightweights by a score of 2 to 0. The batteries for the Juniors were Ward and O'Grady and for the Lightweights, Griffiths and Hawthorne.

FLORENCE Camp, 336 Modern Woodmen will hold a special meeting Friday evening, at 7:30. The Janesville Woodmen say that the next annual meeting will be held in the Bower City.

CONDUCTOR William Neal, who has been running on the St. Paul road from Beloit to Davis Junction, now runs into this city, his trip having been extended.

S. B. CLEMMONS left for Brodhead this morning, where he will join an orchestra that will play for a private party at Rock Grove, Ill., this evening.

A RIDE over the Jackson street bridge would remind one of a trip through the Alps. In some places the bridge has sagged about three feet.

HON. H. A. COOPER arrived on the morning train from Milwaukee and was met by Capt. W. T. Vankirk and Ex-Mayor John Thoroughgood.

HENRY DILLERBECK, who is now a fireman on the Wisconsin Central line between Chippewa Falls and Minneapolis, is home for a few days.

We received a lot of bathing trunks yesterday which we will sell at 10 cents a pair. We are cutting prices this season. Frank Baack.

MISS NETTIE LAWRENCE, who formerly resided in this city, but now of Freeport, is visiting in the city, the guest of her sister.

LEN JOHNSON, Charles Reynolds, Fred King, Charles Hodson, George Ford and Morgan Wise rode to Beloit today on their wheels.

MRS. C. P. McLEAN and son Harry left this morning for Chicago, where they will visit for a few days as the guests of relatives.

FRANK VANKIRK and Ralph Jackman, who are attending the state university, were home to spend Memorial day.

CHARLES TURNER has left on a three week's trip through the states of Iowa and Illinois, for the E. J. Green paper house.

MRS. G. W. CHASE and children, Edna and Russell, left for Fond du Lac and Appleton today, for a week's visit.

CONDUCTORS on all incoming trains report plenty of rain all along the road, within fifty miles of this city.

MRS. O. SUTHERLAND, who has been visiting friends in Chicago for the past two weeks, returned last evening.

A FEW of the street cars have received new platforms, which much improve their appearance.

T. GARDNER of California, arrived in the city last evening, and is the guest of C. F. Yates.

HARRY SWIFT has been added to the force of the Janesville Street railway, as a conductor.

G. W. MAY, a well known machinist of Madison, was in the city today on business.

JOE HIELD's pacer, Speck, went a quarter in thirty-seven seconds this morning.

Mrs. HENRY VOGEL has returned after a visit with friends at Watertown.

THE Busk Lyceum met last evening and discussed the Nicaragua question.

NOTICE S. D. Grubb's low price list on clothing and gent's furnishing goods.

R. D. STEWART spent the day in Harvard, Ill. visiting relatives.

BATHING trunks, all you want of them 10 cents a pair at Baack's.

No difference if you pay but a dollar for a suit for your boy, we give him a "buckboard," one with every suit, and "bear in mind" that we cut the price of child's and boys' suits, named by any other clothier in this town. Frank Baack.

H. W. WEAVER took part in the G. A. R. parade at Clinton today.

THE High school nine played the Evansville team today.

FOR SALE: Pony, pony wagon and harness. A. M. Valentine.

HON. CLINTON BABBITT of Beloit, was with us yesterday.

B. FLECK was in Brodhead today.

SEE ad of Cyclopaedia on page 6.

READ W. T. Vankirk's price list.

THE WOODMEN PLAN TO GET THE PICNIC

FLORENCE CAMP WILL MAKE A STRONG PULL.

Committee Will Be Appointed to Call on the Business Men and See What Proposition Can Be Made to the Delegates at Madison—Big Thing for the Town.

Do Janesville people want the annual picnic of the Modern Woodmen of America had enough to help the members of Florence Camp to get it? They ought to.

Thirty thousand strangers in town. That is what it means.

How much would it be worth to a merchant to have 30,000 people visit his store and read his sign, even if they didn't spend a cent?

A good deal; it would be good advertising.

How much would it be worth to Janesville to put her name in 50,000 mouths and have an army of strangers 30,000 strong visit the town?

Florence camp will make a strong pull for the picnic this year. They will go to Madison, where the picnic is to be held this season, two hundred strong each man wearing a ventilated helmet and carrying an umbrella.

When they get there they will present Janesville's claims to the delegation, but before so doing they must know what inducements can be held out, therefore they will hold a special meeting on Friday night, at which time a committee will be appointed to call on the local business men to see what money can be raised and other arrangements made in order that they can tell the delegates who select the next meeting place just what can be expected of Janesville.

The picnic draws people from all of southern Wisconsin and northern Illinois, and as Beloit, Rockford, Elgin, Madison and other towns have each had it once, Janesville's chances are good if she can make arrangements to accommodate the crowd and raise the money to entertain them.

Think the matter over and talk to the committee.

CLOTHING IS CHEAP

All Wool Goods Now Lower Than Ever Known in the History of the Trade.

Men's light weight suits in fine casimere, Scotch mixtures and chevrons $4, $5, $6.50 and $7.50.

Men's fine Clay worsted black suits in sacks and cutaways $10.

Boys' knee pant suits $1, $1.50 and $2.50.

Boys' long pant suits $3, $4 and $5.

Men's summer trousers $1.50, $2 and $2.50.

Blue serge unlined coats $2.50.

Black alpaca coats $1 and $1.50.

White duck trousers $1 and $1.50.

Fancy white vests, 75 cents and $1.

Nobby derbys and fedora hats 98 cents.

Stylish straw hats 25 and 50 cents.

Light underwear, 25 and 50 cents.

Soft negligee shirts 25 and 50 cents.

Starched negligee shirts 50 and 75 cents.

Black or tan hosiery, 10 and 15 cents.

Sweaters, all colors, 25 and 50 cents.

All wool sweaters, $1.35 and $2.

Unlaundered white shirts, 25 and 48 cents.

Fine linen collars, all styles 10 cents.

Boys durable shoes, 85 cents and $1.

Men's stylish and durable shoes in black or tan, $1, $1.50 and $2.50. S. D. Grubb, West End Clothier.

TRAINS COME AND GO IN A BUNCH.

St. Paul Depot Has a Metropolitan Appearance and Some Folk Get Left.

"Go it old man! You'll catch on at Beloit!"

You can hear some one call out after the manner indicated, almost every morning that you go up to the St. Paul depot. During the morning the depot presents quite a metropolitan appearance for a number of trains come and go at the same time, and unless the traveler keeps a strict watch on his train, he is liable to miss it.

As the Rockford passenger pulled away from the depot, a stranger just spied his train as it reached a good rate of speed. Then came a race, and a hot one, from the depot to the "Five Points" crossing.

The brakeman who was standing on the rear platform with outstretched hands, and the runner was within a foot of the platform when he gave up the race in disgust.

This thing is a frequent occurrence and many people insist that a man to call the trains would be a valuable assistance to the traveling public.

Groceries Saturday.

We will make special sales on groceries all day Saturday. For instance gold dust washing powder will be sold at 18 cents. Best Burbank potatoes 70 cents a bushel. Everything else in proportion. A. C. Munger.

STREET CAR CRISIS IS CLOSE AT HAND

SOMETHING MUST BE DONE VERY SOON.

Line Must Be Made To Pay or Pulled Up, and J. W. Blabon Sent an Agent From Philadelphia To Learn Which He Considers the Better Course To Pursue.

Janesville's street car line must either be made to pay or pulled up, and it was this state of affairs that resulted in A. L. Register, of Philadelphia, coming to Janesville to look over the ground. Mr. Register, who has built three hundred and fifty roads in different cities, was sent here by J. W. Blabon, the owner of the line, to look things over and advise him what course to adopt—either in building extensions that would result in better patronage or pulling up the rails and shipping the machinery away.

He investigated the situation fully but dropped no hint of his deductions and left this noon for the East. While nothing definite is known as to his conclusions it is intimated that an extension or two are planned and the road will not be abandoned. It was also intimated that Mr. Register found that the line was being operated under the smallest expense and that no further economy could be practiced. The expenses are said to be about $1000 a month while the receipts are just enough to keep the line running without either profit or heavy loss.

Of course the owner of the line is not satisfied with that, hence Mr. Register's visit. When he reports to Mr. Blabon, some course will probably be decided upon.

COTTON MILL HANDS MEET AGAIN

No Change in the Situation as the Result of the Gathering.

The cotton factory operatives held another enthusiasm meeting in Central Labor hall last evening, the attendance being quite large, the majority being ladies. While the questions involved in the strike were discussed at some length, the meeting was more for the purpose of organizing a union.

President John McKeigue, of the Federated Trades council; J. H. Beckman and Thomas Cherry addressed the meeting, advising the formation of a union as the best means of opposing the capitalists whose aim was to make serfs of the American laborers.

The general sentiment of the operatives present was to continue the strike until the cotton factory managers acceded to the demand for the 10 per cent advance in wages, which would indicate that the factories will remain idle for some time. The meeting adjourned until Saturday evening at the same place, and steps were taken to secure a charter for the proposed union.

HE RESCUED A DROWNING MAN

Eugene De Forest, Formerly of This City, Proves a Hero.

Eugene De Forest, of Arizona, who formerly resided in this city, has proved himself to be a hero. Mr. De Forest and a number of members of a surveying party, were working in the vicinity of Salt River, when they concluded to go in swimming.

Although the water was not very deep, it contained a number of whirlpools, in one of which a member of the party was caught, and before they knew it, he sank from sight. After going down for the second time, De Forest hastened to the rescue, and held the man's head above water until help arrived.

JANESVILLE SPEAKERS ARE BUSY

Memorial Day Addresses Delivered by Several of Them.

Janesville speakers did their share of the Memorial day speaking today. J. M. Whitehead spoke at Elkhorn; E. D. McGowan at Shopiere; S. M. Smith at East Troy; A. E. Matheson at Whitewater and J. C. Bartholf at Emerald Grove.

GOSSIP FROM THE WHOLE STATE

HAZEL IRVINE of Wyocena, was run over by a horse and seriously injured.

A CONTRACT has been let in Ashland for a new Methodist church building to cost $10,000.

SUPERIOR people think that the water supply is being contaminated by the dumping of harbor dredgings near the intake pipe.

The annual inspection of the Knights Templar of Madison, was held under the direction of Eugene S. Elliott of Milwaukee, grand commander of the state.

The largest catch of trout ever made in Chippewa county in one day was made by Charles Burke, George Lill, John Miller and Mike McGirk in McKan's creek, twenty miles north of Chippewa Falls. The boys started fishing at 5 o'clock in the morning and at 10 o'clock the same morning had caught 280 trout, making in all about 125 pounds.

No Advance in Bread.

A groceryman gets lost when he tackles any outside line. His business being done on a closer margin than any other, the larger profits in another line often bewilder him.

Our bakery competitors think we should advance the price of bread to 10 cents a loaf, but so long as the baking profits are better than the profits in other goods we sell, why should we advance?

7 cents a double loaf for any kind of bread made. Grubb Bros.

A JOLLY CROWD IN A CARRYALL

Janesville Young People Enjoyed an Evening at D. McLaughlin's Home.

A jolly crowd of young folks drove to the home of Mr. and Mrs. McLaughlin in the town of Harmony, last evening and spent a few hours very pleasantly. They left the city at 7:30 and returned at midnight. Those present were:

Misses—Mae Stevens, Elizabeth Norcross, Evolena Chapell, Elizabeth Schickler, Jennie Rowe.

Messrs—J. V. Norcross, M. O. Mount, Will Menzies, F. H. Jackman, Aliee Reger, Mable Shumway, Marion Reger, Maude Myers, John Barlass.

HONOR THEIR DEAD DESPITE THE RAIN

G. A. R. PAY TRIBUTE TO FALLEN COMRADES.

Marched to the Cemetery Regardless of the Storm, and Decorated the Graves and Went Through with Their Ritual—Balance of the Exercises Postponed Until Tonight.

In the midst of a pouring rain Janesville veterans marched to the cemetery this afternoon and decorated the graves of the fallen heroes, but the balance of the exercises were declared off and will be held at Concordia hall at 7:30 this evening.

The various societies which were to take part in the parade began to gather at the rendezvous with the tap of the fire bell and the fire police, in full uniform, were ready for the signal, when a huge black cloud rolled over the city. Ten minutes later the rain, that had been holding off all day, began to fall and the services were postponed. Then the crowd scattered and went home, but the members of the Grand Army escorted by their drum corps and the Imperial band started at 3 o'clock for the cemetery when the graves were decorated and the ritual gone through with despite the fact that rain was falling and that the grass and the ground were wet.

Congressman Cooper will deliver his address at Concordia hall this evening and the public reception that was to have been given is of necessity abandoned.

TIME TABLES ARE TROUBLESOME

The Frequent Changes On The Railroads Causes Confusion.

The railroads have been changing their time so often of late that it keeps people on the guess about all the time. The "accommodation" on the Northwestern road which has left here for a long time at 8:05 has been changed to leave ten minutes earlier.

A party of ladies arrived at the depot this morning and wanted to go to Chicago but found that the train had been gone five minutes. The connection on the Northwestern 12:20 Madison train for Rockford and Freeport at Belvidere has been discontinued, which caused a great deal of trouble to a funeral party last Monday at Belvidere, they having to stay there during the day. The operator claimed that he was not informed of the change until late in the evening.

SMITH WAS GRESHAM'S ORDERLY.

Beloit Man Served With the Dead Generals in the War.

Simon Smith, the Beloit member of the county board of supervisors, who is widely known in Janesville and Rock county, was for several months orderly for General Walter Q. Gresham when he was commander before Atlanta.

"I guess I furnished General Gresham with most of his smoking tobacco during that campaign," said Mr. Smith to some friends. "The General always smoked a pipe and never had any tobacco, so he would frequently say: 'Orderly, have you a little tobacco handy?' and he always got it. He was a pleasant gentleman and I always liked him."

FOUR ODD FELLOWS ELEVATED.

Wisconsin Lodge No. 14 Elect New Officers at Last Night's Meeting.

The semi-annual meeting of Wisconsin Lodge No. 14, I. O. O. F., was held at Odd Fellows hall, on North Main street, last evening. The attendance was quite large and after the routine work was disposed of the following officers were elected for the ensuing term:

Noble Grand—J. P. Wright. Vice Grand—J. R. VanNamee. Recording Secretary—E. C. Burdick. Treasurer—J. Fred Hutchinson.

The installation takes place at the first regular meeting in July, at which time the appointed officers will be announced.

THE STATE MISSIONARY MEETING

It Is Being Held This Week At Kilbourn City.

Janesville is represented at the annual missionary meeting that is being held this week at Kilbourn City, by Miss Jeffris and Miss Grace Mount, who have gone to join a party at Madison. From the Capital city they will go direct to Kilbourn City. The meeting lasts three days and one of the pleasant features of the session will be a trip through the Delta.

DANIEL GARMO FELL 15 FEET

However, His Injuries Are Not Serious Although Rather Painful.

Daniel Garmo fell from the house upon which he was working at Monterey, and it was at first thought that both legs were broken. This proved untrue and Dr. Mills says that while both legs are bruised and his ankle sprained, his injuries are not thought to be serious.

HUMMELL GOT AWAY FROM MR. HELLER

BOY WHO THEY SAY STOLE $500, ESCAPES.

Man They Said He Robbed Left Him in the Depot Baggage Room, While He Went To Send a Telegram, and When He Returned the Much-Wanted Lad Had Gone.

Henry Hummell, the young man arrested by Sheriff Appleby for stealing $500 from Henry Heller of Waukegan, the other day, will not go back to the reform school—at least not for a day or two.

He's too smooth. Hummell was caught here it will be remembered and the officers recovered $368 of the money taken. Young Hummell begged hard to be given another trial and made all kinds of promises. Probably Mr. Heller believed he meant what he said and was a little easier on him for that reason. As soon as the necessary arrangements could be made, Heller took Hummell in charge and left for Madison, intending to have Hummell returned to the industrial school to finish the term that Heller's kindness had shortened up for him. When they arrived at the Chicago & Northwestern depot at Madison Heller went upstairs to send a message by telegraph, leaving Hummell in the baggage room, but during Heller's absence Hummell got a chance to run, and he took it. Since then he has not been seen, but he will in all probability be captured.

Sneak thieves got in their work at the tailor shop of H. P. Lundie, 51 Milwaukee street, over Palmer's drug store. Mr. Lundie left the shop for a few moments, and during his absence some one entered the place and stole a new suit of clothes and a pair of trousers that were left there to be pressed. The police have a clue to the guilty parties and arrests are looked for in the near future.

ANSWERED THE FINAL SUMMONS

Mrs. D. J. Concannon.

Mrs. D. J. Concannon died at her home on Hickory street at 9:30 o'clock this morning after a long and patient struggle with consumption, her death being the third one in the family within a short time, from that dread disease. To the stricken family the sincere sympathy of many friends will be extended for the affliction is indeed a sore one. The funeral arrangements have not yet been completed.

Royal Baking Powder

Absolutely Pure

A cream of tartar baking powder. Highest of all in leavening strength.—Latest United States Government Food Report.

Royal Baking Powder Co 108 Wall St., N. Y.

MYERS GRAND,

One Week Commencing Monday June 3. THE DISTINGUISHED PLAYERS

John D. Ormond,

and the Peerless Agnes Fuller in

INGOMAR

Monday Eve. PRICES—15c, 25c, 35c.

On Monday evening one lady will be admitted free if accompanied by an escort with a paid reserved seat ticket. Box office open Monday 10 a. m.

Horses Boarded

IN GOOD STYLE.

Order Your Hacks of Davis.

TELEPHONE 69.

ARCHITECT.

Are you going to build? If so you need plans. You can't afford to take chance. I furnish the best at reasonable rates, and guarantee satisfaction.

F. H. KEMP,

Modern Architect, No. 6 Lippin Block.

Telegram Bicycles

ARE

Strictly High-Grade Wheels!

Warranted free from imperfections in material and manufacture. This is the wheel that Sanger is riding and has made his great records with.

IF YOU

Are thinking of getting a wheel this summer, call and examine the Telegram before purchasing.

For sale by

H. L. PALMER,

Of the firm of W. G. Palmer & Son, Corner River and Milwaukee Sts.

They Are

Just Right

Our Pearl Nail Cleaners are indispensable adjuncts to every lady's toilet. They are small, neat and pretty. The price is only 25 cents. We have them up to a dollar. Don't fail to call and inspect our beautiful line of Manicure Goods.

SMITH'S PHARMACY.

BUSINESS ESTABLISHED IN 1855.

FIRST NATIONAL BANK

OF JANESVILLE.

Capital - $125,000

Surplus - 25,000

A general banking business transacted. Safe Deposit Vault of absolute security. Private safes rented by month or year. Drafts sold on all the principal cities Europe.

S

CHANGES OF STYLE.

The Old Fashioned Shoulder Cap—Wide Range of Fashion.

Sleeves no longer stick out above the shoulders. The fullness falls downward toward the elbows, and this exaggeration, though inartistic, is not nearly so much so as that with which we were but too familiar some months ago. From the elbows to the wrists all is tight and close fitting for morning wear, a sensible shape that keeps the sleeves well out of the way of the hands. But for dresses of ceremony the sleeves are often open and very wide at the wrists, showing beautiful linings and much trimming, with inner close sleeves for the protection of the arms. This is reverting to a very old fashion, but there is nothing new under the sun in dress. All is resurrection and revival.

Without asserting positively that fashion begins to show symptoms of a decided change it is safe to say that the present mode, whose general features have been the same for a comparatively long time, is not likely to last unaltered very much longer. The strongest indication of new things is seen in sleeves, which are more and more mounted on a smoothly fitting shoulder piece, the balloon portion no longer beginning at the junction of the sleeve and corsage, but an inch or so below the point of the shoulder. This gives the old fashioned sloping effect, but is extremely inconvenient, as it is impossible to use the arm freely in such a sleeve. This innovation is not yet universally adopted, for eclecticism is the order of the day, and women may wear very much what they like without fear of appearing conspicuous.

RACE COSTUME.

An illustration is given of a race toilet of changeable crepon in geranium and moss tints. The round skirt is cut with godets and opens on each side of the fabric to show a panel of cream liberty satin covered with lace. The full blouse bodice is of green satin and has a large butterfly of lace upon the bosom. The draped belt is of glaze geranium silk. The geraniums are of elbow length and are set low on the shoulder. The bonnet is entirely of roses and foliage, with a bow of ribbon.

JUDIC CHOLLET.

GOWNS AND HATS.

Fancy Straw Braids—Bos of Lace and Ruffled Chiffon.

For a girl's theater or party blouse nothing could be in nicer taste or more becoming than one of muslin chiffon, a fabric silky as gauze and soft as chiffon.

Dinner and evening gowns are nearly all cut square across, with a short sleeve falling off the shoulder. A great deal of lace is employed on the bodices, which is highly desirable, as lace is the most universally becoming sort of trimming. Where the décolletage is formal rather than actual it is filled with tulle, crepe or mousseline de sole, gathered at the neck under a ribbon collar upon which a flower is placed.

Three and four different sorts and colors of flowers are seen on the same hat or bonnet this season, which is a comparative novelty. Kingcups, shaded pansies and lilies of the valley were grouped upon one toque.

Straw is employed not only for hats, but for the trimming, forming frills and rosettes that are both durable and effective. The straw braids are beautifully woven in every shade of color, rose, gold, green, mauve—in fact, all tones seen in dress goods—but perhaps the prettiest are the rough snow white kind and that of a reed green color. The white may be trimmed with flowers the color of the gown, while the green has a charmingly nymphlike, rustic effect and also lends itself well to most color combinations.

HOUSE COSTUME.

Bos of lace and ruffled chiffon are for sale for summer wear and are as fragile as they are pretty. Chiffon and crepe ruffling, very full, are also for sale by the yard and make an exceedingly pretty decoration for their caps.

Yokes and collars of finest organdie, much ruffled, embroidered and fussed, are now fashionable again after the long interval in which wash goods for accessories, even handkerchiefs, have been out of favor.

The illustration shows a dainty house toilet of rose bengaline. The fitted back has a wattleau plait, while the straight front has a puffing of cream mousseline de sole on each side. A wide lace collar covers the shoulders, and the balloon sleeve extends only to the elbow.

JUDIC CHOLLET.

French Monument at Waterloo.

Waterloo is at last to have a monument to the memory of the French who fell there. The Comité du Souvenir Français has the matter in hand.

MARK TWAIN'S STORY.

He Is the Author of "Joan of Arc" in Harper's Magazine.

The Hartford Courant says that "it is now known for a fact that Mr. Clemens is the author of the 'Joan of Arc' romance, now running its serial course in Harper's Magazine. This has been guessed from the repeated occurrence of phrases and modes of expression, which are eminently characteristic of Mark Twain. It is surmised by the Literary World of Boston that 'the cloak of anonymity' is used because the author may deem this his masterpiece, and dislikes to have it hampered by remembrance of the work he has done in the past. This may be so, and if it be Mr. Clemens, we would suppose it likely that he would be glad to shed away his old alias, Mark Twain, and be known by his real name, as an author—just as many a popular writer has longed to do. Dr. Holland for example, grew very tired of being called 'Timothy Titcomb,' after the reason for using that name no longer existed. But the 'Joan of Arc,' which is exceedingly interesting, is not the first work to show Mr. Clemens as a writer of deep and strong purpose. He is a humanitarian, a moralist, a philosopher in his treatment of human life, as even 'Tom Sawyer' indicated, and as the 'Yankee in King Arthur's Court,' 'The Prince and the Pauper' (that beautiful apologue of 'all sorts and conditions of men') and, above all, 'Pudd'nhead Wilson,' have abundantly proved. The last-named tale of slavery is one of the most powerful pictures of the evils of 'the peculiar institution' ever written, ranking beside 'Uncle Tom's Cabin.' A scholar Mr. Clemens never can be, for he has waited too long, and thus he fills this romance of France many centuries ago with expressions which belong to the uncultured west of the United States of his day, and to 'Mark Twain' above all. Nevertheless, 'Joan of Arc' is going to be worth reading. We may hope that Mr. Clemens has read De Quincey's brilliant essay on the Maid of Orleans. It is in line with his conception of the character.

"WALKING EGYPT."

A Curious Semi-Religious Custom in Southern Georgia.

"You pretend to know enough to come to congress from Georgia," retorted the colonel disgustedly. "and don't know what 'walking Egypt' is? Well, it's a grand Indian file procession to which the colored race gives way once a year in its churches. They lift up their voices in a horrible wail, the congregation does, and suddenly a negro jumps up in the aisle. Next a sister jumps up. She places her hands on his shoulders, and there they stand jumping up and down, stiff-kneed, like you've seen sheep when feeling festive. Usually these two are a misfit—he a small, runty little fellow, she a big, strapping wench. The singing moans on. Others get up until the whole congregation is in procession, hands forward resting on the shoulders in front, like a lot of penitentiary people going to dinner. Keeping a jerky time to the moaning, the procession, like a long, black centipede, jumps and jerks its way up one aisle, down another," says the Washington Post, "until their religious fervor has cooled. That's 'walking Egypt,' and I suppose the rite was imported from Guinea 200 years ago."

A Hop, Skip and Jump.

An athletic caper of this sort would scarcely be considered indecorous in one, even of mature age and sedate habits, impelled thereto by excess of joy on recovering his digestion through the instrumentality of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, foremost among remedies for dyspepsia, biliousness and constipation, a trio of evils usually found in conjunction with each other. As the stomach recovers its tone, and the gastric juices are secreted in healthful plenitude through the agency of this superb restorative, nerve tranquility, appetite and sleep return, the body gains in substance and the muscles in vigor. For the prevention and cure of malarias, rheumatic aches, kidney trouble the Bitters is a most direct and thoroughgoing medicinal agent. Its effects are speedily felt and comprehensive.

Sick headache, constipation and indigestion are quickly cured by Dr. Witt's Little Early Risers, the famous little pills. C. D. Stevens.

BETTER THAN A GOLD MINE.

Last month I cleared, after paying all expenses, $253.38; the month before $182.42 and have at the same time attended to my regular business. I believe anyone, anywhere, can do as well, as I have not a particularly good location and not much experience. When you have an article that every family wants, it is very easy selling it. It seems strange that a good, cheap dish washer was never before placed on the market. With the Perfection, which sells for $5, you can wash and dry the dishes for a family in two minutes, without putting the hands in water. As soon as people see the washer work, they want one, and that is why so much money can be made so quickly. For full particulars address The Perfection Mfg. Co. Station O. Elmwood, Ill. I feel convinced that any lady or gentleman, in any location can make $5 to $10 a day, as every family will very soon have a dish washer. Try it and publish your experience for the benefit of others. ALICE O.

Mr. Balfour's "Foundations of Belief" is the most successful book of the season in London. About nine thousand copies have been sold already.

CURES OTHERS

Mrs. HARRY TAPPAN, of Reynolds, Neb., writes: "For about two years I was a constant sufferer from diseases peculiar to my sex. I had to be carried from my bed, had horrible dreams, sinking sensations, was very nervous and had little or no appetite. In short, my whole body was racked with pain. I had frequent attacks of hysteria, and was completely discouraged for I found no medicine did me any good. At last I determined to try Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. I had taken but two bottles before I felt so much better! I took eleven bottles. Today, I am well. I have never felt the least trace of my old complaint in the last six years. We use the 'Golden Medical Discovery' whenever we need a blood-purifier. With its use, eruptions of all kinds vanish, and the skin is rendered clear and soft, almost as an infant's." Sold everywhere.

WHOLESALE AND RETAIL

LLOYD &amp; SON,

57 W. Milwaukee Street.

Everybody has been thought of; their comfort, their appearance, their profit. Everything in desirable and reliable is here and at money-in-your pocket prices, too. Listen! Hear! Act!

FOOTWEAR

Ladies fine hand-turned or hand-welt Regular $4 shoes this week..... $3

Our Gents Tan Shoes beats the world and we are selling lots of them..... $3

See our Ladies Canvas Shoes, Nice and Cool for Summer.

LLOYD &amp; SON,

57 W. Milwaukee St.

A. H. SHELDON &amp; CO.

An Impossible Task.

It would be an impossible task to hide the good work of this store, because hundreds of new patrons talk about it every day. You cannot conceal the fact that this store is generally in advance of its neighbors.

Ladies Crescent Bicycles, 26-inch	$ 50
Crescent Scorchers	65
Waverley Bicycles, ladies	75
" " gents	85
Victor Bicycles	100
Victoria Bicycles	100

Plenty of Bicycles now on hand.

A. H. SHELDON & COMPANY.

LAPPIN'S BLOCK.

HEIMSTREET'S NEW YORK DRUG STOREHEIMSTREET'S NEW YORK DRUG STORE

SHOULD GET RICH.

Customer—"You fellows ought to get rich. You make three and four hundred per cent on what you sell." Druggist—"What can I serve you with?" Customer—"Give me three two-cent stamps."—New York Herald.

In the Past

A good many jokes have been elaborated—at the expense of druggist—on account of his supposed large profits. The above little clipping from the great New York Herald may be taken as an indication that the press and the public are beginning to see the question in another light. We could write volumes on the subject, but perhaps you would not wade through them. This, however, we will assert here: The drug store is the proper place to get anything in the drug line, and we can prove that our prices are as low and our goods as good as anywhere else in town. And we do not try to prove this by advertising "draws" at cost and under, with some article from somebody else's line of business. Here are two of our own lines suitable for present moments.

Compressed Camphor 5c per oz cake.
Alabastine at 50c a Package.

E. B. HEIMSTREET, New York Drug Store.

HEIMSTREET'S NEW YORK DRUG STOREHEIMSTREET'S NEW YORK DRUG STORE

RESULTS—THAT'S IT.

EVERY EIGHT WEEKS FOR 25 YEARS

DR. F. B. BREWER has made regular visits to same office this section of the state for the past twenty-five years. This long experience in the treatment of chronic cases and constant study of the best methods, enables him to

CURE EVERY CURABLE CASE.

We keep a record of every case treated, and the result obtained and can refer you to people you know who have been cured or materially benefited by our method of treatment.

CONSULTATION FREE.

and reasonable terms for treatment. We are prepared to show successful results in treating diseases of the Liver, Heart, Lungs, Stomach, Kidneys, Brain, Nerves, Rheumatism, Neuralgia, Debility, Youthful Indiscretion, Cancer, Old Sores, Tumors, Fits, Diabetes, Dyspepsia, Dropsy, Chronic Diarrhoea, Eczema, Loss of Voice, Bronchitis, Pneumonia, Catarrh Consumption, Influenza, Asthma, Tetters, Scrofula, Eruptions, Pimples, Humors, Blisters, and all diseases of long standing. Address:

DR. BREWER & SON, Evanston Ill.

AT JANSVILLE, MONDAY, JUNE 3.

Belding Refrigerators

Best in the World.

as they were awarded first prize at the World's Fair over all competitors. Call and see them. Prices guaranteed to suit you.

Bedroom Suits—Antique Finish.

We purchased a carload of these suites sell regularly at $22. $17 We bought so as to sell at.....

High back, solid oak Dining Chairs..... .75
Cotton top Mattresses.....$2.50
Woven Wire Springs..... 1.50

MOSES BROTHERS,

Furniture dealers and Undertakers, 60 West Milwaukee St.

BOLLES

Its the talk of the town. What? The business Bolles is doing. Why?

Because he has struck the popular chord,

GOOD GOODS AT

Reasonable Prices

We are doing good work, it cannot be denied, and saving every customer $5 to $10 on a suit.

BOLLES and SUCCESS

are synonymous.

M. T. MIDDLETON, Mgr. & Cu ter.

"BOLLES" The Tailor.

A Beautiful Souvenir Fan for the Ladies.

GOVERNMENT BUILDING, ATLANTA EXPOSITION.

At the last session of Congress an appropriation of $200,000 was made for the purpose of making an appropriate government exhibit at the Atlanta Exposition. The Government building will be one of the handsomest on the grounds, and will contain an exhibit similar to the one made at the World's Fair in Chicago.

PENSIONS FOR TEACHERS.

Illinois House Passes the Bill by a Vote of 116 to 3.

Springfield, Ill., May 30.—The senate bill introduced by Senator Crawford providing for pensioning school teachers came up in the house just before adjournment yesterday, and was passed by a vote of 116 to 3. The bill has already passed the senate and will now become a law if the governor's signature is secured.

The senate went into executive session and confirmed the governor's nominations of trustees of the Northern Illinois Normal school.

The bill to prevent the coloring of oleomargarine to resemble butter was advanced to the third reading.

Senator Craig moved to reconsider the vote by which the senate refused to concur in a favorable report of the committee on municipalities on Lowenthal frontage bill. A motion to table the motion failed to be adopted by a vote of 18 yeas to 25 nays. Senator Mahoney made a speech against the reconsideration, asserting that the vicious features of the Miller bill were not eliminated. The motion to reconsider prevailed by a vote of 28 yeas to 17 nays. Senator Crawford moved to advance the bill to second reading, which was lost by a vote of 26 yeas to 19 nays, a two-thirds vote being necessary for the suspension of the rules for advancement.

The house passed Green's bill requiring railroad companies to erect and maintain depots in villages and towns containing 300 or more inhabitants; the Farrel bill to prohibit the use of clock, tape, slot or other machines or devices for gambling purposes; and the senate bill appropriating $225,000 for improvements on the State Fair grounds. Sharrock's bill authorizing the Supreme court to pass on questions of fact as well as law failed to pass.

While bills were on first reading Mr. Curley of Cook arose and asked unanimous consent to take up on third reading his bill to regulate sale of convict-made goods, wares, and merchandise manufactured by convicts in other states. Mr. Berry, who was in the chair, ruled Mr. Curley out of order, and some disturbance took place, but after Mr. Bailey's bill making rape a capital offense, had been advanced to third reading, Mr. Curley was recognized and his bill was passed—yeas, 106; nays, 2. Mr. Weston secured unanimous consent to take up on third reading the bill introduced by Senator Wells to prohibit the manufacture of cigars, medicines, food, or food materials by convicts. The bill passed—yeas 84, nays 1.

Senator Sawyer called up the house bill making nine inspectors of weights and measures on third reading, and the bill was passed by unanimous vote. Senator Dunlap called up Senator Mussett's child-labor bill, and after some debate it was advanced to third reading with a number of important amendments. The amendments adopted do away with all of that part of the bill except the enacting clause and Sec. 1, providing that children under the age of 12 years shall not be allowed to work in factories. The vote was—yeas, 27; nays, 17. The session is dead now so far as this week is concerned. Both branches have adjourned until Friday morning. An agreement has been signed in the senate by the terms of which nothing will be done in that body until next Tuesday morning at 10 o'clock. The house will work Friday and possibly Saturday, too.

DEFIES THE GOVERNMENT.

Judge Dundy Will Not Permit Federal Interference in Nebraska.

Omaha, May 30.—Judge Dundy declared himself to a certain extent on the Pender Indian troubles when he dismissed Sheriff John Mullin to-day in the federal court. The sheriff of Thurston County was recently indicted by the grand jury for alleged interference with Captain Beck, of the Indian police on the Winnebago reservation. He had come down to surrender himself and have his trial at once. Judge Dundy told him to go home and stay there until he was sent for. The judge declared that he did not intend to sanction interference of federal officers with state authorities when the latter were doing their duty in serving legal papers. Mullin thanked the judge and left for home. There was great rejoicing among the Flournoy sympathizers within earshot at the federal building when the judicial remarks became known. This, it is believed, means that Dundy will restrain federal troops from interfering if the petition is made.

Wheat Starts with a Rush.

Chicago, May 30.—Wheat started with a rush for higher levels yesterday, and sold within a short time from the opening at 82½c, the highest price yet reached. Then came a swift reaction and it sold down to 80½c, which was ½c lower than the closing Tuesday. The market regained some of the loss quite quickly, and hung around 81 cents for some time. Toward the close the market softened considerably and sold down to 80¼c. There was a small rally, but the final quotation was 80½c, or ½c lower than the close Tuesday.

RIOT AT TALLULAH FALLS, GA.

South Carolina Men Shoot and Stab Officers—Cars Wrecked.

Atlanta, Ga., May 30.—South Carolina excursionists to Tallulah Falls, Ga., engaged in a riot yesterday afternoon, and the town marshal's throat was cut, the sheriff had his throat gashed and a deputy was seriously injured. At Cornelia a posse ran the rioters into a swamp and captured four of them. They are now in jail at Clarksville. The sheriff of the county remained on the train and was shot at several times. The rioters were drinking. The coaches were badly demolished.

League Will Assist Blackburn.

Denver, Colo., May 30.—Joseph Sibley of Pennsylvania and General A. J. Warner will depart for the east after addressing a meeting at Leadville and another at Pueblo. Mr. Sibley says he intends to go into Kentucky within a few weeks and is possible give Blackburn some assistance. General Warner, upon being asked if the Bimetallic league would endeavor to help Blackburn, replied: "Most certainly."

IN MEMORY OF RUSK.

Monument Unveiled To-day at Viroqua, Wisconsin.

Madison, Wis., May 30.—Governor Upham and all the State officers, with half the clerks in the departments, have gone to Viroqua by special train to the unveiling of the monument at the grave of ex-Secretary of Agriculture Rusk.

THE RUSK MONUMENT.

REBEL AGAINST CHINA.

Alarming Rumors from Formosa—Renewal of Hostilities Imminent.

London, May 30.—A special dispatch to the Pall Mall Gazette from its correspondent at Shanghai, says that alarming rumors are current at Shanghai. It is stated that a renewal of hostilities is imminent. The viceroy of Formosa is said to have rebelled against the government of Peking. The Japanese ships are reported to have been cleared for action, and the French ships at Tamsui, Fodmosa, are also said to have been prepared for fighting. In addition, rumors of Russian intervention are current at Shanghai, and steamers have been ordered to Tien-Tsin with provisions in view of the probability of Russian hostility.

Iowa Crops May Be Saved.

Des Moines, Iowa, May 30.—There is a marked change in the atmosphere here, a cold wave succeeding one of the hottest waves of the year. For forty-eight hours the winds blew hot blasts from the direction of Kansas. The crops were more or less damaged, but there is no doubt about their complete recovery provided there is rain in the near future. During the hot wave the mercury ranged at 85 degrees and even above 90 degrees in some places.

NOTICE TO CREDITORS—STATE OF WISCONSIN, COUNTY COURT FOR ROCK COUNTY.—In Probate.

Notice is hereby given that at the regular December term of the county court to be held in and for said county at the court house, in the city of Janesville, in said county, on the first Tuesday of Dec. 1895, being Dec. 3, 1895 at 9 o'clock a. m., the following matters will be heard considered and adjusted:

All claims against Alexander Graham late of the city of Janesville in said county, deceased.

All such claims must be presented for allowance to said court, at the court house, in the city of Janesville, in said county, on or before the 21st day of November A. D. 1895, or be barred.

Dated May 21, 1895.

By the Court, J. W. SALE, County Judge.

thurm30w4

The Last Call.

One More Chance.

One More Grand Opportunity.

Another $3<sup>00</sup> Sale

Saturday June 1, 1895.

Any shoe in the store will be sold that day for Three Dollars.

By Request of many of our customers we have made you another chance to secure bargains never before thought of in our city. Recollect, NO RESERVE.

Banister's Patent Leathers,

Strong & Carroll's Cordovans,

Nettleton's Hand-Sewed Calf,

Schwab Bros. Kangaroos

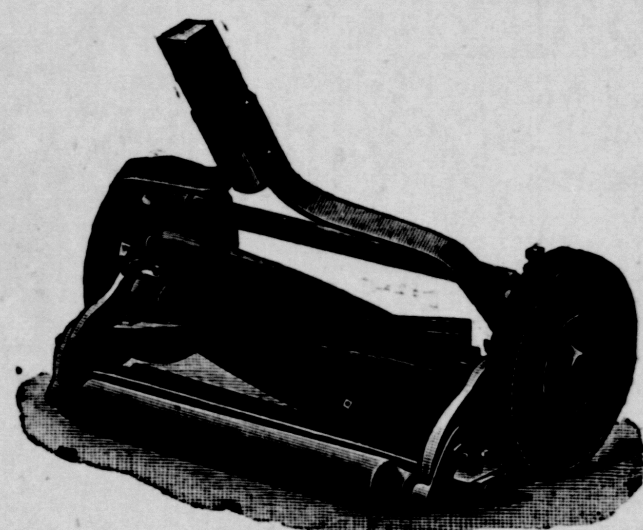

are all placed on the altar for sacrifice that great day. 500 pairs of Russets and Tans are to be included in the slaughter.

Any Ladies Shoe in the store no matter what the regular price will be sold that one day at $3.00.

We have the most complete stock of Fine Shoes in Southern Wisconsin.

BROWN BROS. & LINCOLN.

Lowell Hardware Co.

All Kinds of

LAWN-MOWERS,

and as usual the best for the least money. The above mower is worth $5, but we get only

$2.35.

This is the make of Buggies we chose to sell. If there had been any better make we could have had it, as we are always given first choice, being leaders.

Don't Miss This Store.

These bright days and tremendous low prices bring out the buyers and our store is thronged.

Judging from our deliveries to the express companies, the out of town people and the out of state people must be favorably with the methods they found in vogue here.

Lowell Hardware Company.

If there was another

Gasoline Stove

in the market as good as this we would be selling it also.

If you can find as good a

Refrigerator

for money, perhaps you better take it.

Five Tooth Cultivators.

Adapted for One Horse.

Especially Constructed for Tobacco Raising and Small Gardening. A full line of them.

Special Prices to Introduce.

C. H. BELDING, 9 Court Street.